Palestine Deaths Total 63; Arabs Cite Anglo Activity

Six Persons Are Rescued From Ruins; British Partition Move Is Charged

Jerusalem, July 25 (AP)—The death toll of Monday's bombing of the King David Hotel rose to 63 and the list of missing dropped to 55 today as medical officers and engineers at the scene abandoned hope that any victims were still alive in the rubble.

Fatigued but grimly determined soldiers continued, nevertheless, to plow through a slowly diminishing pile of debris. Six persons had been rescued previously from the ruins.

Forty-seven persons still are confined to hospitals.

Battle-hardened soldiers who had seen action through most of the war declared there was "nothing worse than this" after excavating the mutilated bodies of the victims.

Tension rose sharply following blaming the Jewish Agency for Palestine for certain acts of violence by underground forces. There was no crystallized reaction as yet, however.

Reports last night that explosions had occurred along the coast of Haifa were attributed today to night target practice by British naval units.

British 'Action' Charged

London, July 25 (AP)—Arab sources in London said today the British government is exerting all possible influence on America in an effort to sell a plan to split Palestine into communal units of Jews and Arabs.

These sources said they were privately informed that recent violence in the Holy Land had convinced Britain there was no hope of establishing a peaceful state in which neither Jews nor Arabs would dominate.

At the same time, the Arabs say Britain is embarrassed by findings of the British-American committee of inquiry which specifically recommended against partition of Palestine.

As an alternative Arabs say they are informed the British are striving to win American acceptance of a "half-way house," in which Palestine would be divided into Jewish and Arab areas similar to American counties.

"Would Have Local Autonomy" Each communal unit would have local autonomy, the Arabs say, except where general co-ordination of service or defense required general authority of the mandatory power.

The Jewish Agency in London, meanwhile, said it had no knowledge of possible solutions under discussion by British-American negotiators in London, but said the agency's executive meeting in Paris next Monday would decide on alternative policies which might apply according to future developments.

The Jewish view was represented as being that the human problem of settling 100,000 Jewish refugees was paramount, and after this was done it would be possible to hold discussions of Jews, Arabs and British for an amicable final settlement.

No Jewish Comment

There still was no comment from leaders of the Jewish Agency yesterday's British white paper, which accused members of the Jewish Agency of having provided liaison for underground military groups in Palestine and having given authority for acts of violence.

Abrahamson, spokesman for the former new Zionist organization, however, accused the British government of "dishonesty" in connection with the issuance of the white paper.

Referring to documents cited in the white paper as "evidence" that Jewish leaders were involved in recent outbreaks in the Holy Land, Abrahamson declared, "I would come to you that the white paper seems like a damp squib after the sensations that it has caused. In any case, it does not give any opportunity of seeing the originals."

Stolen Car Found In New Jersey

Brooklyn Man Is Said to Have Admitted Taking Auto

John Bogen, 23, of 616 Blake avenue, Brooklyn, picked out Ridgewood, N. J., as a good place for a nap during the early hours of July 23 but Officer Hanstein of the Ridgewood police disturbed his sleep when he found Bogen was sleeping in a Plymouth car which had been reported stolen a few hours earlier from the Frank Lauro garage in Marlborough.

Bogen told the officer he had been picked up by a stranger who gave him a ride to Ridgewood and then disappeared. Bogen took a sleep while awaiting the return of the stranger.

However the New Jersey officer notified Sergeant John Metzger of the Highland B.C.I., when he found the Plymouth car was one which had been reported by telephone as missing from Ulster county on July 22. Bogen was brought back to Ulster county after he waived extradition and on being questioned about the matter admitted, Sergeant Metzger said, to have taken the car. He was arraigned before Justice Ralph Clark on being brought back from Hackensack, N. J., and there waived examination and was held to await action of the grand jury on a grand larceny charge.

Laurio, who lives at Marlborough, went to his garage about midnight on July 22 to lock up his car and found it missing. He reported the matter to Corporal William Martin of the State Police and a teletype was sent out when the Plymouth car was found parked near a filling station in Ridgewood its occupant was questioned.

It developed that Bogen had been employed at Blossom Farm in Marlborough, not far from the Lauro place, and was missing from his job on July 22. Sergeant Metzger said Bogen had admitted he took the car and on reaching New Jersey apparently believed he had put enough distance between himself and Marlborough to afford a nap. He failed to realize on the speed of the teletype messages.

Army Officials Won't Give Names and Number of Yanks

Frankfurt, Germany, July 25 (AP)—U. S. Army officials stood firm today on their refusal to disclose the number and names of American soldiers being detained in European countries which are under Russian influence.

It was learned, however, that several Americans have been or still are under "prolonged detention" in eastern, central and southern Europe, and that high level negotiations are underway with Poland for the release of two U. S. soldiers held for alleged crimes in that country.

One soldier detained in Poland was identified here only by the name of Dagley. The other was Pvt. Melvin R. Best of Butte, Mont., who was arrested in Katowice last December in connection Aboard U.S.S. Appalachian, Bikini Lagoon, July 25 (AP)—The first underwater atomic bomb, exploding with an awesome roar that thundered upward into a beautiful cloudy geyser, destroyed the battleship Arkansas and sank the huge old aircraft carrier Saratoga and seven lesser vessels today.

Associated Press Correspondent Don Whitehead, in the best position to view the blast from a B-29, said it was so powerful that the Arkansas was shoved far out of her original anchorage just before she plunged and other target vessels near the center of the fleet of 75 were tossed about like toys.

First to go in the mighty plutonium blast was the second chapter of the Army-Navy "Operation Crossroads" was the old 26,100-ton battleship Arkansas. She and two small craft, a yard oiler and a tank-landing ship, simply disappeared in the pink-fringed mist at 8:35 a. m. (4:35 p. m. E.S.T., Wednesday).

Seven hours and 32 minutes later, at 4:07 p. m., the 33,000-ton Saratoga, war-worn old carrier, was hurled into the bottom of the Bikini Lagoon. Her prow pointed upward as if her stern were resting on the bottom, then disappeared.

A little later five submarines of the six that had been submerged in the lagoon were found to be resting on the bottom. Whether they were crushed or had sunk through some defects in their air lines was not known.

Probably the most powerful man-made force ever loosed—perhaps even stronger than the bomb that razed most of Nagasaki last August—the atomic bomb did not immediately sink as many of the 75 target vessels as observers had expected.

The true extent of the damage is still unknown, however. Ships still were "hot" with radioactivity many hours later. Navy men and scientists edged ever closer and re-entered the lagoon with sensitive instruments, trying to determine the danger and ascertain the full damage as soon as possible.

The radioactivity was so great that two tugs which went to the rescue of the Saratoga, under orders from task force commander Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy to try to beach her, had to turn back and let the gallant old lady die alone.

The battleship New York and the Japanese battleship Nagato were listing, evidently damaged, as were the battered carrier Independence, the destroyer Hughes, the transport Fallon and the heavy cruiser Pensacola.

A reef and ten miles of blue Pacific separated this ship from the target fleet when the bomb was off. Observers had their glasses on the mast of a small landing craft that was above the submerged atom bomb.

A voice on the ship's loud speaker droned off the seconds and the world's fifth atomic bomb was set off by remote radio controls.

An almost incredibly white dome of water rose where the slim mast had stood. It glowed momentarily. Then it spread, at first wide and flat, to perhaps half a mile in diameter.

Woman Is Slain, Her Daughter Is Assaulted, Shot

Nassau Police Seek Negro Following Tragedy in Logan House at Flower Hill

Flower Hill, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Nassau county police combed heavily-wooded areas of Long Island's exclusive North Shore today for a six-foot, "stare-eyed" Negro who shot and killed a 52-year old society matron and then raped and wounded her daughter.

Shocked residents of this fashionable community joined officers and detectives of the county's six police precincts, patrolled the deserted roads surrounding the territory, while police cars were parked at every important intersection.

Victims of the assault were Mrs. Marjory Church Logan, wife of a retired banker and former War Production Board official, and her daughter, Marjory Jeanne, 26, New York Junior League, recently discharged from the W.A.C. as a sergeant.

"Miss Logan, who was shot in the face and neck, is in Nassau Hospital at Mineola, where the bullets were removed. Police described her condition as critical.

At the hospital yesterday Miss Logan gave Nassau County Police Detective George Hutchinson the following account of the slaying:

"She was in her bedroom shortly before 11 a. m. Mrs. Logan was downstairs. The only other person in the house was Mrs. Suzanne Delehan, a maid who was sewing in a different section of the sprawling home.

Heard Mother Talking

"I could hear my mother talking to someone," Hutchinson quoted Miss Logan as saying. "And presently she called upstairs: 'Jeanne, will you throw me down $10? I want to pay a debt.'"

"I went to my room, where I had about $100 and got out a $10 bill. I folded it up and went out and threw it down over the banister to my mother. I could just see her in the light of the hallway. I couldn't see the man.

"I turned to go back to my room when I heard a shot. My mother gasped and I heard her body fall. I turned and this man came running up the stairs. He had a shiny nickel-plated gun in his hand. He said, 'gimme that money.' I had my purse in my hand, and I gave it to him."

Ordered to Disrobe Then, pointing in the direction of her father's bedroom, he said: "go in there and take off your clothes."

Miss Logan walked into the room with the man following closely, and removed her clothes except for an army fatigue jacket.

After attacking her the man fired at her face. The bullet entered her jaw between her nose and left ear.

"I didn't lose consciousness," she told Hutchinson. "I tried to get up, turning slowly on the bed for support. He fired again. The bullet struck her in the back of the neck." Then he ran. I could hear him going down the front stairs.

Putting on some undergarments, Miss Logan ran screaming to a neighbor's home but when the man there failed to answer she rushed to another home where painters were working and to whom Miss Logan told the story of the attack.

Painter Gives Help

One of the painters, Theodore Krick, helped her into his car and took her to the office of Dr. Joseph Teta at nearby Port Washington. En route, Miss Logan suddenly screamed:

"There he is, there he is. That's him."

Bus Line Gets Permission

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Mountain View Coach Lines, Inc., which operates bus lines in Ulster and Greene counties, today received Public Service Commission authorization to extend its Hill street route in Saugerties over Theodore street and East Bridge street. The extension will accommodate Kingston and Catskill residents employed in Saugerties, the commission said.

U. S. Will Continue Baruch Atom Plan Despite Moscow

Gromyko Statement Is Considered Merely as Argument, Not Final Stand

New York, July 25 (AP)—An authorized source said today that the United States would continue to press for adoption of the Baruch atomic control plan despite Russia's declaration that she could not accept the key U. S. proposals.

This source said the United States delegation did not consider yesterday's statement by Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko as Russia's final position on the atomic control question, but regarded it merely as an "argument" against the Baruch plan.

"We believe our plan can be sold," the informant continued. "We believe the facts will bring everybody in line with our view."

Russia's position was made known at a closed session of the atomic commission's committee No. 2 when Gromyko spoke at length on U. S. memorandum No. 3, dealing with the relationship between the proposed atomic development authority and the United Nations.

This memorandum covered such vital questions as the surrender of the veto on atomic matters and the powers which the atomic development authority would have in the event of an attack.

The United States proposals in their present form cannot be accepted in any way by the Soviet Union either as a whole or as separate parts," Gromyko said, referring to the memorandum.

He said flatly that Russia would not surrender her veto rights or give up her sovereignty to the extent of permitting international inspection of atomic facilities.

Gromyko declared that the atomic development authority, as proposed by the U. S. representative, Bernard M. Baruch, was of "such a character that in reality such an authority would be independent of the Security Council and would have almost full autonomy."

"This," he said, "cannot be reconciled with the charter of the United Nations."

Union Bands Won't March If Ellenville Outfit Stays

May Intercede For Capt. Garsson

Correspondence Released by War Department to Senate Committee

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating committee today released correspondence showing that Rep. May (D-Ky.) appealed to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for clemency in the court martial of Capt. Joseph H. Garsson, son of a munitions maker now under committee investigation.

Two letters from May to Eisenhower were submitted to the committee as part of its inquiry into the war profits of a midwest munitions combine—which was promoted by Murray Garrison, father of Capt. Garsson. Also included was Eisenhower's answer to May's first letter.

May, who is scheduled to tell the Senate Committee tomorrow about his activities on behalf of

Parade Committee Has Had No Answer; City Takes on Festive Air

Music trouble may mar the big firemen's parade that will bring to a close the 11th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in Kingston on Saturday afternoon. It was said today by members of the convention parade committee.

The Musicians' Union has refused to withdraw its ultimatum that if the Clayton Band of Ellenville, a non-union organization, marches in the parade all union bands will be withdrawn.

The parade committee has informed the Pioneer Engine Co. of Ellenville, who had engaged the Clayton Band, of the situation, but has received no reply. A member of the parade committee said today it was expected that the firemen would come to Kingston as they had planned with the band.

It was pointed out by members of the parade committee that many of the members of the non-union bands were in the city and received preliminary consideration. By this means, he said, as well as by further investigation by the planning staff and the sites committee, it is hoped that the list of sites will be reduced to a small number and so facilitate the task of the general assembly in making its final selection.

The commission also announced that it had received a report from the Sites and General Questions Committee, outlining the functional activities which could be accommodated in the various sized areas listed in the General Assembly's resolution of last February—two, five, 10, 20 and 40 square miles.

The conclusions of the report were that:

A two-square-mile area could be used for the main assembly area. A four-square-mile area could be used for the main assembly area. A six-square-mile area could be used for the main assembly area. A eight-square-mile area could be used for the main assembly area. A ten-square-mile area could be used for the main assembly area.

If He Signs, Truman to Pick Board

President Will Not Say What He Will Do Before Conference, Secretary Says

Will Lose Powers

Aside From Rents Many Wartime Powers Will Be Removed

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman probably will state whether he will sign or veto the O.P.A. revival bill at a news conference at 4 p. m. (E.S.T.) today.

At the time of a White House announcement to this effect, the bill had not reached Mr. Truman. Although passed by Congress, it still had to go through the hands of the speaker of the House and the president of the Senate for their signatures.

It was expected to get to the White House soon after noon.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that the President's action on the legislation approved early today by the Senate, will not be announced in advance of the news conference.

The decision, Ross said, will be accompanied by a message to Congress in explanation of his action. If the President signs the bill, Ross said, he will name the three-member price control board it provides "very promptly."

Ross would not forecast the President's action, although other White House officials say privately and House Democratic Leader McCormack has said publicly, that he will sign the measure.

Except for rents many of the agency's wartime powers will be curbed or removed. The exterior bill passed the Senate a few minutes after midnight, 53 to 26, and was sent to the White House.

The House previously had approved the measure, 210 to 142.

When signed by Mr. Truman, the bill automatically will re-establish rent and many of the price ceilings which lapsed July 1. O.P.A. plans are to follow quickly with a number of temporary adjustments on prices, pending calculation of new and higher ceilings required under the measure.

The bill gives O.P.A. life through next June, but it prohibits restoration of price controls at least until August 20 on such major market products as meat and dairy products, as well as grains, petroleum and tobacco.

During the final long and sometimes bitter debate, Senators Wherry (R-Neb.), Barkley (D-Tex.) joined with others in demanding reelection of the compromise bill approved by a House-Senate conference committee.

On the other hand, Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who led the fight against O.P.A. as it existed under the old law, supported the current draft.

The bill's rough passage through the Senate was highlighted just before midnight when Wherry, the Republican whip, criticized Taft, Democratic Leader Barkley (D-Kent.) and other conferees for their failure to insist on the Senate amendments.

But even as the words flew across the Senate chamber indications multiplied that Mr. Truman will approve the legislation quickly.

Barkley has termed it substantially the same bill the Chief Executive vetoed June 29, but the Kentucky and House Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) both have indicated the measure is acceptable to the President.

Forecasts Release

A number of the House Appropriations Committee gave a measure of support to this. He told a reporter privately that Mr. Truman will request, possibly in a message today, an additional $25,000,000 above the $75,000,000 already voted for O.P.A.

Another indication that Mr. Truman is leaning toward restoring controls came in the disclosure by high officials that the President plans to name Reconversion Director John R. Steedman as succeeding Chester Bowles. These officials, who may not be identified, noted that this appointment would make Steedman the top policy man over O.P.A.

Even before the Senate began more than 12 hours of debate on the exterior bill yesterday, O.P.A. continued on Page Twenty-three will turn temporarily from the Baruch plan to Russia's proposals when it meets tomorrow afternoon. At that time, Gromyko is expected to present arguments in favor of his plan for an international convention to outlaw the production and use of atomic weapons.

This plan differs sharply from the U. S. proposal in that it provides for the immediate outlawing of atomic weapons, while the Americans want the weapons to be under control, and a collective controls have been set up.

Russia also wants the control of atomic energy to be handled by the individual nations under terms to be agreed to in a treaty, while the United States wants the controls to be international. Other U. N. developments: Members of the United Nations were notified officially that the meeting of the General Assembly has been postponed for September 3 to September 23.

Acting Secretary-General Arkady A. Sobolev said he did not consider an Egyptian note on the Palestine question as an "official request" to put the question on the agenda of the assembly. This means that further action would be needed to bring the case up in September. The Egyptian note, made public Tuesday, said Egypt had sent a communication to the secretary-general "with a view to submitting the proposals therein set forth" to the next assembly meeting.

The Security Council decided to postpone from August 1 to August 29 the deadline for reports from the committee on membership applications for U. N. membership. It was agreed, however, that the committee might begin deliberations as soon as it wished on the four applications now before it. These were from Albania, Afghanistan, Transjordan and outer Mongolia.

Atom May Power Planes
Chicago, July 25 (AP)—R. L. Farnsworth, president of the United States Rocket Society, says that army air forces reports on the "practicability" of atomic energy for powering airplanes should result in rockets reaching the moon within the next two years. Officials of the army air forces in Washington this week reported that experiments aimed at powering airplanes with atomic energy had progressed to the point where the idea seemed practical.

Conference Nears Close
Batavia, July 25 (AP)—A conference attended by Dutch and Indonesian representatives at Malino, Celebes, neared a close today with the conferees in apparent agreement on formation of a United States of Indonesia as a basis for eventual independence of the Netherlands East Indies. Final decisions on the recommendations of the Malino conference will be made at another conference at The Hague early in September.

Will Hear Case of Low Flier Next Monday

New York, July 25 (AP)—The case of Robert A. Talbot, Jr., of 329 Elderswood avenue, Pelham, N. Y., charged with violation of the state aviation law which bans planes from flying over the city at an altitude of less than 1,000 feet, will be heard Monday at 2 p. m. before Chief Magistrate Edgar J. Bromberger.

Magistrate Bromberger granted an adjournment in the case yesterday at the request of defense attorneys who said they might bring in technical experts to testify.

Talbot, a former Army Air

Force captain, received the summons from Patrolman Henry H. Blehuse of the Aviation Bureau. It charged that Talbot, while employed by the Fairchild Aerial Survey Co., 21-21 41st street, Long Island City, Queens, flew at 500 feet over Van Brunt, Richards and Pioneer streets, Brooklyn, at 11:10 a. m. July 13.

Patrolman Blehuse said that he and Sgt. Gustav Crawford, in charge of the Aviation Bureau, saw Talbot to land at Staten Island Airport.

Talbot was accompanied by a photographer. Blehuse said, adding that Talbot claimed to have a waiver from the Civil Aeronautics Authority permitting him to fly low.

It was the third summons to be issued for a similar case since last Wednesday.

House Group Works To Appropriation Sum
Washington, July 25 (AP)—The House appropriations committee signalled full steam ahead today on President Truman's request for $2,679,493,000 to pay enlisted men for unused furlough time.

While a Senate-House conference committee sought to decide whether the bill authorizing the terminal payments should provide for all cash or part in bonds, Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) called a meeting of the appropriations committee for tomorrow to approve the actual money.

Noting that without an appropriation measure the authorizing legislation wouldn't mean much, Cannon told reporters: "We expect to have our bill ready for the House by Monday."

The President sent his request for the funds to the committee late yesterday.

He estimated that average payments would be $165, with a total of $1,183,068,000 for the army, $736,130,000 for the navy and $60,295,000 for the Coast Guard.

Of the full amount, Mr. Truman estimated $2,658,658,000 would be needed for actual payments and $20,835,000 for administrative expenses.

The President's request assumed that Congress eventually would enact the plan providing for payment in bonds of all amounts in excess of $50.

Investigation Continues On Lama Club Loss
State Police report that the investigation is still under way in the recent robbery of the safe at the Lama Country Club at Napanoch. Several hundred dollars of hotel money for a payroll was missing and a considerable amount of money and jewelry which guests had deposited for safe keeping disappeared. It was stated that the loss would reach $16,000.

An investigation disclosed that the burglars had apparently been familiar with the combination, since the safe was undamaged. Sergeant Lynn Baker of the Wurtsboro State Police barracks and troopers from that station are making the investigation.

Force captain, received the summons from Patrolman Henry H. Blehuse of the Aviation Bureau. It charged that Talbot, while employed by the Fairchild Aerial Survey Co., 21-21 41st street, Long Island City, Queens, flew at 500 feet over Van Brunt, Richards and Pioneer streets, Brooklyn, at 11:10 a. m. July 13.

Patrolman Blehuse said that he and Sgt. Gustav Crawford, in charge of the Aviation Bureau, saw Talbot to land at Staten Island Airport.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 25, 1946

WELCOME FIREMEN

Kingston takes pleasure in extending a welcome to the two-day convention of Ulster County Volunteer Firemen, which opens tomorrow and continues through Saturday. Credit is due the local committee in charge of arrangements for making plans for the event and in completing the very interesting program.

The men who comprise the volunteer fire companies are active in all firemanic matters. Cooperating with the paid fire department in fighting fires in this area, the volunteers are an important group in the life of a community.

In conjunction with the convention program, the volunteer firemen will stage a big parade on Saturday afternoon. Over 2,000 volunteers representing thirty-eight fire companies and members of three Ladies' Auxiliaries will take part in the parade. There also will be seventeen musical units and twenty-eight pieces of fire apparatus.

The parade will be viewed by thousands of residents of Kingston and the townships of Ulster County.

Kingston is very happy to play host to the volunteers and hopes the volunteer will thoroughly enjoy their eleventh annual convention here.

HORSELESS CARRIAGES

While millions of Americans wait impatiently for a glittering new car, owners of more than 100 of the country's most ancient automobiles are fixing them up for this summer's version of a historic expedition.

The Glidden tour, started in 1905 by the American Automobile Association as a promotion stunt for the cause of automobile travel, will be revived this August for the first time in 33 years. Members of the Antique Automobile Club of America, the Veteran Motor Car Club of America and the Horseless Carriage Club of Los Angeles will take part. Many of the cars to be used are more than 30 years old.

The racing element of the early days will be missing, and the current drivers will give the old buggies a lift with a long boat ride, but there will be plenty of sport in the simple process of covering the route. The cars will go from their various starting points in Pennsylvania, New York and New England and will converge on Albany August 17. From there they will run to Buffalo, board a boat for Detroit, then travel back to Cleveland and Columbus under their own power.

Today's roads will doubtless be gentle with the veteran vehicles, but the spare parts problem is one the drivers would rather not encounter at a 1946 crossroads filling station.

DISAPPEARING RICKSHAWS

India's rickshaw, celebrated in song and story, is soon to become one of "the things that were." A labor committee labels this conveyance pulled by one to four men as "a degradation to human personality."

When this mode of transportation was first introduced to Calcutta, Chinese were the pullers. Then Indians took up the business, earning from $10 to $15 a month. The rickshaw was practical because of its economy and suitability for the hilly, crowded and narrow streets. During the war it became more popular than ever as a result of gasoline rationing and the dearth of horses.

The passing of the rickshaw is probably a good thing, provided Indian economy will see to it that a substitute work is evolved for the coolie. Maybe someday, when India is free and gets its problems straightened out, the rickshaw puller will be a taxi-driver.

THE AMERICAN EXPORT TRADE

The British loan and the other dollar loans, which are being made in huge amounts, forces upon the United States two immediate decisions; one, the value of the dollar in international trade; the other, the volume of American goods which can be made available for export to foreign countries. In other words, both problems would be left to the Law of Supply and Demand as it operates in a free market. But we live in a world of controlled economies in which decisions, for better or for worse, must be made by governments. Another factor to complicate and confuse our situation is the rapid disappearance of private trade in the international field, governments purchasing from governments by treaty, establishing a vast universal cartel that fixes prices and limits the availability of goods. The export trade has become high politics.

In the matter of the value of the American dollar, the tendency seems to be for foreign countries, particularly the British economic bloc, to gang up on the dollar. They feel that the dollar is too high. In a word, they can purchase less goods for the dollar—which they get from us as a "loan" for practically nothing—than they should like to. Therefore, they wish to see the dollar devalued, which, for them, would mean more American goods for their borrowed American dollars.

In a word, our debtors seek to increase the velocity of the inflation in this country to serve their purposes. It is essential that the United States immediately take drastic measures to protect the value—that is, the purchasing power—of the American dollar so that the American people do not suffer from their unwillingness to others. Whenever this subject was discussed during the British loan negotiations and its consideration before Congress, the vicious and stupid attack was made upon the arguer that he was anti-British, an isolationist and all sorts of other ultra vires nonsense. The fact is that now that the British have a credit of $3,750,000,000 and that the United States has undertaken about $20,000,000,000 of outside commitments, the dollar has to be protected as a practical proposition. This ought to be a matter of Treasury routine, not of politics. It is not subject to argument; it simply needs to be done. As regards the volume of foreign trade, that is an extremely complex subject, further complicated by Mr. Truman's two errors; one, his initial theory that price devaluation would follow the end of the war which led him into the morass of wage inflation, resulting in a series of almost disastrous strikes; and secondly, his veto of the first O.P.A. bill which threw the economy of the country out of gear. These errors in another country would have proved disastrous; in our rich land, it only increased the economic confusion.

Henry Wallace advocates foreign trade expansion. "The United States is by far the greatest factor in world trade today. We are the largest producer, and the world is in desperate need of our goods. We are also the only important lender on earth. This is a decisive moment for us. We have the opportunity to lead the world toward expanding trade, toward peace and plenty. We shouldn't fumble this time."

That, of course, is round, political conversation. It does not show how. What is to be exchanged for what and in what manner? Of course, foreign trade is a fine thing. The Civilian Production Administration makes more sense. It has developed a formula by which the flight of goods from the American market is to be prevented; that is, no export expansion unless Americans at home are supplied. Only those industries may expand their foreign trade that increase their total production. Europe is desperate for American goods and as they will be buying with borrowed American dollars that they cannot and will not repay, they can offer any price because they really will get the goods for nothing. They can drain us.

The C.P.A. fears—and soundly—that this will tempt American businessmen to divert their output to the export trade. C.P.A. is so right. Its Chief, John Small, is to be congratulated on knowing what he is talking about. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act) STOMACH AILMENTS

As stomach and duodenal ulcer (peptic ulcer) was the commonest ailment in the armed forces and is today one of the commonest ailments among civilians, anything that helps in the diagnosis and treatment of peptic ulcer is of interest to everybody. Thus I have spoken before of the gastroscope, the instrument that enables the physician to see the lining of the stomach, any inflammation, ulcer or cancer, and also to observe if any diseased condition is or is not improving.

In the British Medical Journal, Dr. Norman C. Tanner analyzes 2,200 gastroscope examinations made on 1,730 patients, of which 470 were repeated examinations made to follow the progress of an ulcer under medical treatment, confirm healing, observe relapses and also observe if diagnosis (telling one disease from another) made was the correct one.

Of the 1,730 patients 589 had stomach ulcer, 296 duodenal ulcer (ulcer of first part of small intestine into which stomach empties), 267 had inflammation of lining of the stomach, and 262 had stomach symptoms caused by the emotions not by disease. This means that in the majority of cases of stomach ailments the emotions are the cause or partial cause. Of the total 1,730 401 were cancer of the stomach, many conditions were harmless growths, pouches in walls of stomach (diverticulum) and others.

As the X-ray examination is considered the best single method of examining the stomach what are the advantages in using the gastroscope? Dr. Tanner states that while the gastroscope was first used to examine the lining of the stomach for inflammation (gastritis) he has used it most often in diagnosis and observation of stomach ulcer. Of 631 cases of stomach ulcer, 159 were diagnosed or discovered by the use of the gastroscope alone, despite the fact that the X-ray examination apparently showed a normal stomach.

Further help obtained by use of the gastroscope is more information as to the results of medical treatment and the degree of healing obtained. From the above it can be seen that where there is any doubt about the condition of stomach, the gastroscope should be used.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Mixed results were shown when the votes were counted at the November election in 1931, when Eugene B. Carey, the Democratic candidate for mayor, defeated his Republican opponent, C. Ray Everett, by 408 votes, while Conrad J. Heiselman, the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large, defeated his Democratic opponent by 12 votes.

The Democrats regained control of the Common Council, electing seven aldermen, while the Republicans elected six.

The Republican aldermen elected were Paul Zucca, Ray Haines, John J. Schwenk, Judson S. Neice, Abraham D. Belyea, and Lyman T. Schoonmaker.

The seven Democratic aldermen were John F. Long, Jr., Michael Sullivan, Joseph Epstein, Charles J. McGee, John P. Doherty, John McGrane and Gottlieb Reinhardt.

The political campaign that year had proved a heated one with charges and counter charges being hurled, and considerable rivalry spilled.

November of that year was also marked by the death of Dr. Myron J. Michael, superintendent of the public schools, who died on the 4th in his home on Maiden Lane, aged 80 years.

The year 1931 marked Dr. Michael's 56th anniversary as an educator, and 36 of those years were spent in Kingston. He served 15 years as principal of old Kingston Academy, and 21 years as superintendent of schools.

Dr. Michael in 1910 succeeded Prof. S. R. Shear as head of the city's school system. Prof. Shear had resigned to accept a similar post in Poughkeepsie.

On June 10, 1925, Dr. Michael was the guest of honor of the faculty of the city's schools at a reception and banquet held in Epworth Hall on Clinton avenue, in honor of his golden anniversary as an educator.

When the present M. J. Michael School on Andrew street was built it was named in honor of Dr. Michael, who during the 36 years was a resident of Kingston, had been very active not only in educational circles, but as a member of Commerce and as a member of the Kingston Rotary Club.

Dr. Michael for years had been an active member of the old First Dutch Reformed Church.

Another well known man who died November 1, 1931, was John B. Osterhout of Lindsley avenue. Mr. Osterhout for years was one of the chief engineers employed on the tugs of the Cornell Line. He entered the employ of the towing company when a young man, and at the time of his death had served 41 years with the Cornell Line.

Fraternally he was a member of Roundout Lodge of Masons and of the Shrine. He was also a member of Aretas Lodge of Odd Fellows. He was very active in the Ponckhockie Congregational Church, and was a member of the church board.

Mayor E. J. Dempsey on November 9, 1931, appointed Louis Stock of the firm of Stock & Cords, furniture dealers, a member of the Board of Public Works.

Military Men Already Are Fighting Our Next War on Paper and in Public Statements
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 25—While the public may or may not think of the next war as remote, military men are already fighting it on paper.

Thus General James H. Doolittle, retired, who is president of the Air Forces Association, has come out into the open in his disparagement of the value of the United States Navy. He not only deprecates the battleship but calls the aircraft carrier "obsolescent."

After the last world war, Billy Mitchell, who was a general in the air forces, began a crusade against the battleship and went to such extremes that he didn't help the cause of air power. As a consequence, for a long time American air power was neglected and the United States paid the penalty at Pearl Harbor.

Today the extremists who speak flippantly of the aircraft carrier—which really was the major influence in winning the war in the Pacific—are starting a crusade that will again hurt the true cause of air power.

If Mitchell's advice had been taken and the battleships had been scrapped, Hitler might have won the war in Europe. For after the air forces failed to compel the Nazi surrender and an invasion of ground troops became necessary, the guns of the battleships protected the invading forces on the Normandy coast for a distance of 12 miles inland. Time was of the essence, as evidence now shows a slow war might have been fatal.

The firepower of the battleships made the landings successful in the Pacific, too, where the air forces alone were powerless to capture bases needed for our big bombers.

Now Doolittle's advice is to scrap the aircraft carriers and to depend only on long-range bombers and to concentrate all command in the air forces, thus reducing to a secondary role both ground troops and the navy. Again the advocates of air power are overplaying their hand.

The idea of a unified command is a good one, and Congress would have acted on the plan at this session if the air forces had not destroyed all harmony between the military services by insisting that land-based planes that operate with ships should be removed from the navy's control and by hinting plainly that, on the basis of air forces theory alone, the appropriations for carriers and for amphibious forces should be virtually eliminated from major consideration.

The enthusiasm for air power is understandable. Anyone who followed the remarkable work done in the war against both Japan and Germany by airplanes and by the men who do not hesitate to concede that air power is of primary importance in any military establishment charged with the responsibilities of world-wide operations. But it is one thing to give air power its due and quite another to wipe out former officers of one service by giving out press interviews reflecting on another service. The general public is likely to look askance at such procedures and the cause of adequate appropriation for armed services is bound to suffer.

The U. S. strategic bombing survey report, made by eleven distinguished civilians, was an attempt to give due credit to all armed services, but even in the report the prejudices in favor of air power went to the point of criticism of another armed service. Thus in naval circles there is amazement at the statement in the report that the capture of the Gilbert Islands was not necessary or that Rabaul was bombed unnecessarily. One wonders what General MacArthur thinks of the latter point, as it was vital that Rabaul be neutralized before the northern advance of MacArthur's forces could be carried on.

Any attempt to go directly to the Marshalls without shore-based aviation would doubtless have been a disaster at a time when American forces were initiating the push across the Pacific which eventually brought them to Okinawa.

Such discussions more than ever point to the necessity of a comprehensive inquiry of what happened in the Pacific and particularly a study of those points of criticism which the strategic bombing survey significantly ignored as to the failure of the Air Forces to put out of commission the bases from which suicide planes were killing American boys on the decks of naval vessels of Okinawa and keeping the Marines and infantrymen on shore from getting the assistance they needed in capturing the island. It was the victory at Okinawa, it was though it was, which was the turning point of the Pacific war and the ground troops of the army and Marine Corps did that job with the aid of the navy and with little help from the Army Air Forces.

TRouble IN THE PHILIPPINES
It would take a book to analyze all the kinds of interlocking troubles with Uncle Sam's newest baby, the Independent Philippine Republic, must contend. Industry is at a standstill, except for trinket selling to the Yanks. Philippine prices are terribly inflated. Philippine money is in hopeless competition with American dollars floating around. Many people have more dollars and pesos than they ever dreamed of in their life, but this paper money doesn't buy very much, and it doesn't earn anything. One class is relatively happy, thrifly saving for the future; that class is the Filipino girl gold-diggers. Philippine women were probably less mercenary in this respect than many other women in the world until the last few years. They are learning fast.

Optimistic Filipino leaders think they can get industry started again with the help of import quotas in the United States and a billion-dollar loan in loans and reparations. According to the Philippine expert of the American people, voted by Congress, but it will take scientific forethought and management—the efficient exploitation of definite industries for which markets exist—to get industry going.

In agriculture, the Philippine market for coconut and other natural fats seems slow to come back—much as the world needs fats. There is an acute shortage of food in these hitherto islands of abundance. Sugar plantations have been ruined or allowed to go to jungle for lack of shipping; fishing craft and fishing grounds have been destroyed. But above all, the best agricultural land, both for sugar and rice, has become badly impoverished for lack of fertilizer over the years. Fertilizer in the Philippines is today, as it is everywhere, one of the scarcest and most precious articles in the world. In the islands and on the continents, man is literally eating up his soil.

The fertilizer situation might be relieved if a proper number of ships, (tied up by red tape here and there) were sent out with the proper number of seamen (provided Bridges would let them work) to gather loads of guano from the Bird Islands of the Pacific. But of course a simple and reasonable solution presents difficulties too impossible to conquer. The greatest faculty of men and nations is to tie themselves up in knots.

But all of this is introductory to the double-bubble trouble that faces the new Philippine Republic under President Roxas. A short word for that trouble is HUKS. The HUKS are hicks of the central rice district of Luzon. Their full name, "Hukbalap" means "Jap fighters." They were peasants organized by guerrillas, some of whom said to state were professional bandits who had connections among fairly grainy bankers and gangsters in the city of Manila. In driving the Japs out of the rice eliminated the land-owners. The peasants have laid claim to parcels of land, but refused to pay taxes to any central government. The landlords likewise, quite naturally, refused to pay taxes on land from which they had been dispossessed, and the government cannot subsist without taxes on its best farmlands.

So, the Philippine army of ten or fifteen thousand men (by agreement with us, it was to number not more than fifteen thousand) has been pressing against the Huk country. The landlords have seen their opportunity and organized a few military bands which, with the moral more than forceful backing of the army, have lately lobbed a few shells into the land of the peasants, whose only crime is that they want their land and believe what their leaders tell them.

The HUKS constitute a government within a government, just as do the Communists in China. But the Philippine Republic can never get started, and no government can ever carry on if it tolerates a government within its government. The HUKS at present control about 600 square miles according to the famous Dr. Rodriguez, expert of the Huk colony, who has just arrived in this country after spending the entire war period trying to save a few of his charges from being starved to death by Japanese intent.

Of course Communist masterminds never overlook a situation like this, and Commie agents are in touch with the HUKS, who are said to have at present enough arms of one kind or another for fifty thousand men. Philippine officials frankly recognize that they can never deal with the situation of twelve thousand soldiers. They refer it to the United States Army, since Congress has passed an act at the request of our State department, pledging support to the Philippine government in its military exigency.

I assume, therefore, that Yanis will soon be shooting Filipinos in the rice districts of Luzon. Of course, no Filipinos will like us. And the Commies will laugh at another horse laugh.

No doubt just to add spice to the Philippine situation, the C.I.O. has recently sent $100,000 to the Philippine Central Labor Organization. This can only be regarded as left-wing money for left-wing purposes, and it can only make trouble for Philippine and United States government authorities.

Pappy of Bikini Hogs Stands to Be Highly Honored

His Offspring Are Very Well-Mannered Pigs;
Don't Jump, Run
or Root

Buckner, Mo., July 25 (P)—This little town of 600 people swelled with pride today—the name of one of its former residents had been added to the list of Missourians who have made good.

High Linden Dude, who comes from a long line of well-bred, easy going spotted Poland China hogs, has been identified as the pappy of the 200 pigs used in the atomic test at Bikini.

The porker got his start here with Vernon M. Reppert, secretary-treasurer of the Missouri Spotted Poland Breeders Association, and headed west at the age of three months for an important assignment in vocational agriculture research. Whether Buckner will hold some sort of a celebration honoring him for his contribution to the atomic world hasn't been decided but he certainly has been the talk of the town since Reppert was notified of his distinction.

"You will be interested to know," wrote Vocational Agricultural Teacher Elwood W. Juergenson of the Linden, Calif., Union High School, "that all the hogs used in the Bikini atom bomb test were sired by High Linden Dude."

Reppert sold High Linden to the California school for vocational purposes. Even at the age of three months, Reppert recalled, High Linden stood out as the pig most likely to succeed out of his large herd.

While conceding that all hogs would have the same physical reaction to radio active rays, Reppert expressed the opinion that the navy selected High Linden's offspring for the historical experiment because of their good manners and mild disposition.

"Spotted Poland Chinas as a breed," he said, "are sweet tempered and easy to handle. They don't jump, run or root."

Bomb Repercussions Recorded by Aussies

Adelaide, Australia, July 25 (P)—Repercussions believed to have resulted from today's atom bomb explosion at Bikini were recorded by the seismograph at Adelaide Observatory.

Government Astronomer George F. Dodwell said the recording on the graph was most noticeable 16 minutes after the actual explosion which would correspond with the secondary wave of disturbance.

He added the reading "differs in character from the usual earthquake recording and it seems definite it was caused by the explosion of the bomb."

Seismographs at Sydney, approximately 700 miles nearer Bikini, failed to record any disturbances.

breadth. Suddenly it shot upward with lightning speed.

At the top of the dome, the water spread in a great wide column with a rounded top. In two seconds the top widened like a grotesque mushroom, whose thick stem by that time was nearly a half-mile wide at the base, which in turn was boiling upward.

Air Mushrooms Out

The air mushroom spread out to more than a mile wide. All this time the entire display was dazzling white.

Then from the widening edges of the mushroom umbrella pure white points of water, V-shaped, began streaming down toward the ships. Many of these sprays were far larger than any of the big battleships.

At this moment must have been occurring one of the almost incredible phenomena of atomic energy. Water thrown against the Saratoga crushed her massive stack, knocking half of it to the flight deck.

A series of waves spread from the spot where the bomb was detonated. They raced out toward the ships outside the lagoon and some poured over a small island off Bikini's shore. The main island was not inundated. Admiral Blandy estimated the wave was seven to ten feet high at Bikini island—lower than had been expected.

Ships rocked. The hot force of the bomb's concussion was felt by some observers outside the lagoon. Parts of target ships' equipment, mattresses and the like, undulated on the waves.

Slowly the mist began to clear. Some of the target ships became visible again.

Men who had expected many of the ships to be gone were amazed to see them floating where they last had seen them.

But all efforts to find the Arkansas, a concrete yard oiler, a tank landing ship and the medium landing ship over the bomb, were futile. They simply had disappeared.

Less than nine hours after the explosion, this ship entered the lagoon, but anchored some distance from the targets.

Col. Stafford Warren, the radiological safety chief, said that half a dozen target ships on the outer rim of the array were free of contamination when patrol teams got there but that it might be several days before the ships near the center of the fleet could be boarded safely.

The colonel said that a rain of death-dealing fission particles came down in the lagoon immediately after the millions of tons of lagoon water skyrocketed upward.

Later, clouds along a 30-mile front became contaminated with fissionable products. This cloud bank drifted to the northwest. It was tracked by airplanes.

Colonel Warren pointed out that rain from clouds of this nature could be deadly.

longed detention." The order, made public yesterday, applies to American civilians as well as military personnel. It specifies that all persons planning to leave for eastern Europe must be briefed by "officers of superior rank."

Meanwhile, relatives of Capt. Harold Cobin, who has been missing since July 4 when he apparently went on an unauthorized trip into the Russian Occupation Zone of Germany, were reported to have petitioned the War and State Departments to take all possible steps to find him.

Mrs. Mary Cobin, his wife, who arrived in Berlin July 10 to join her husband, said that her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Elliott of 531 West 123rd street, New York City, "felt so worried about her father that she telephoned Washington to do its utmost to help."

Cobin, 53 and Lt. George Wyatt of Oklahoma City, Fla., were last seen at a railroad station, and apparently intended to go to Oranienburg, in the Russian zone. Russian officials have informed U. S. officers that they do not know the whereabouts of the pair.

Marched in 63 Parades

William Henry Bodine, 85, who died in Middletown Wednesday had been a member of McQuoid Engine and Ladder Co. for 67 years. Until stricken about three years ago he had never missed marching with McQuoids in a single fire parade in the city in more than 60 years, and had marched in 63 parades. Despite his age he always refused to ride on the truck in parades, preferring to march with the other men. His last parade was in the mobilization march in 1942.

Likely Summation Tomorrow in War Crimes Hearings

Nuernberg, July 25 (AP)—The International Military Tribunal hearing war crimes charges against 22 top-ranking Nazis sat in closed session until almost noon today and it seemed apparent that the scheduled opening of prosecution summations by Justice Robert H. Jackson would be delayed until tomorrow.

Jackson, chief prosecutor for the United States, has indicated that he does not want to start his summation one day and finish the next.

At the conclusion of its closed meeting, the tribunal announced that Dr. Alfred Seidl's rewritten defense summation on behalf of Rudolf Hess, onetime No. 2 Nazi, would be accepted only after certain deletions had been made.

The tribunal said the rewritten version, like the original one which was rejected early this month, contained unauthorized references to the Versailles Treaty, unauthorized quotations and subject matter irrelevant to the present trials.

The Hess summation was expected to be heard later in the day, at the conclusion of the final plea for Hans Fritzsche, former deputy propaganda minister.

Apple Raisin Salad

Waldorf Salad Features First-of-the-Harvest Food Favorites
With the food shortages rife, an Apple Raisin Salad such as this deserves top billing. For not only will it help to stretch a skimpy main-course meal, but it will double as dessert if need be. The ingredients are all available once more—produce of orchard, field and forest which nature, with mid-summer munificence, has bestowed on us again. This recipe relies on apples: the season's earliest beauties, flaunting their gypsy-scarlet skins, baring their fine white flesh to your knife in fat chunks that have a juicy smack to them. The sweetening element is supplied by raisins—those honeyed pellets nature has been, sun-ripening all summer, until they have become a storehouse of delicate fruit sugars. Chopped nuts contribute protein richness; while celery provides crisp crunch and a wonderfully earthy flavor. Combine 3 cups unpeeled diced apples, 1/2 cup seedless nectars or seeded muscats, 1 cup chopped nuts, 1 cup dried celery, 1/3 cup cooked salad dressing. Refrigerate 1 hour; serve on lettuce. Yield: 8 portions.—Jean Merrill.

Pot Roast With Vegetables
4-5 lbs. Pot Roast 6 med. potatoes
6 med. onions 6 med. carrots
3 tbs. salt water as needed 1/2 tsp. pepper

Brown the pot roast slowly in lard or dripping. Season with salt and pepper. Add 1/2 cup water, cover closely and cook slowly about 3 1/2 hours or until tender. Add more water as needed. About 45 minutes before the end of the cooking time, add potatoes, onions, and carrots. Remove meat and vegetables and make gravy from the cooking liquid. Serves 8 to 10.

Broiled Steak
Have porterhouse, club, tenderloin or sirloin steak cut at least one inch thick. Place steak on rack 3 to 3 1/2 inches from source of heat. Brown on one side, season with salt and pepper, turn and continue broiling. Season second side and serve immediately. Steaks cut one inch thick require 15 to 20 minutes for broiling. Two inch steaks require 30 to 35 minutes.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

The Winner a Ringer

Peacedale, R. I., July 25 (AP)—There was some growling and a few catcalls at the blue ribbon winner of the Neighborhood Guild's pet show. Passing scrubbed pups and trimmed kittens, judges gave the "most unusual pet" award to a 14-month-old boy, Billy Bouchard. Bill was the entry of his cousin, Betty Gadow.

Oh Shaw

New York, July 25 (AP)—The cry of "foul" was raised today over the selection of "breast of chicken" as the main dish for the Saturday review of literature's 90th anniversary birthday dinner in honor of George Bernard Shaw.

The dinner will be held tonight at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria. Symon Gould, associate editor of the magazine American Veteran, declared that Shaw's "astounding longevity is due in no small measure to his abstinence from flesh, fish and fowl for a period of over 55 years."

Dispiriting

Tulsa, Okla., July 25 (AP)—Sheriff A. Garland Marrs, defeated in a runoff primary, plans to throw a $50,000 whiskey "party" before his successor, W. V. Caffey, takes over January 1.

The sheriff explained his party wouldn't be the cocktail variety. For under Oklahoma law he must destroy the 10,000 pints of seized liquor now in his custody.

"I have held on to it a long time, in hope some day the legislature would enact a law permitting sale of this liquor so that funds could be returned to the taxpayers," said the sheriff ruefully.

Too Much to "Bare"

Los Angeles, July 25 (AP)—The city council here has decided the "fad of semi-nudity" on the streets is none of its business.

The Hollywood Opportunity Club demanded a city ordinance prohibiting "women from wearing as few cloths as possible."

The council heard the protest and agreed the law was "unsightly" but turned the whole matter over to the city attorney with instructions to handle it himself and please do not REPORT BACK.

Costly Ticket

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Paul Zimmerman of Chicago went to the police station in suburban North Chicago yesterday and paid a small fine for overtime parking, making no protest.

But a few minutes later he was back at the station to lodge a complaint. He told police while he was in the station thieves had broken into his car and had stolen a sample case of cigarette cases and other jewelry valued at $1,000.

Pipe of Peace

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—George B. Leach evolved a remedy which he believes has stopped his dog, "Buster," from running off with his pipe.

Leach, recuperating from an operation, has been spending lots of time on his lawn reading, but Buster sometimes interrupted his reading pleasure by picking up his pipe when Leach would put it down.

He bought a pipe—and a pair of glasses—for Buster. He said the dog now sits by proudly while he reads.

Rotarians Hear of Baseball School,
Commerce Dept.

Herb Thormahlen, who is conducting the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball school here along with Turk Karam and John Carey, and also Dale Swartzmiller, manager of the regional office of the State Commerce Department here, were guests of the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon-meeting on Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

Mr. Thormahlen briefly described the manner in which the school for tryouts here was conducted and how the boys were encouraged to continue playing the national pastime. There appeared to be several likely prospects, he said. He congratulated Kingston in having Harry L. Edson as recreational director. He said Mr. Edson, who showed a genuine interest in the youth of the city, was a favorite with the Dodgers. He also declared the stadium to be one of the best ball parks in which they conducted schools.

He urged Kingstonians to continue their interest in sports and youth and expressed the opinion that if other countries exhibited similar interest in sports as the United States there would be less time and effort spent in promoting wars.

Mr. Swartzmiller, whose regional offices embrace the counties of Ulster, Sullivan, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess, Putnam and Greene, outlined the purposes and functions of the Commerce Department. Included in the work of the offices were the promotion of the development and protection of industry and commerce of the state and the expansion and development of markets for New York products. Their offices also encourage the location of new industries in the state and publicize the material and economic advantages of the state which make it attractive for business and residence. The department also assists communities in planning for future expansion and development.

The regional director stated that the Hudson valley had everything to offer big manufacturers and he believed with the forthcoming decentralization of big industries that this valley would be included for the establishment of plants. The big foreign trade that will be developed in the next two years would bring industries here because of its nearness to the largest port in the world—New York city. However, he asserted, the big industries must be contacted and shown the advantages here. This called for cooperation from residents of the valley, he said.

"Party-line service makes it possible for many more people to have a telephone."

That's the reason why only party-line service can be furnished at present in those communities where any residence telephone service at all is available.

Many families who want a telephone still have none. Telephone facilities have been overloaded by the great demand for service. But by using the limited amount of existing equipment to furnish party-line service, we have been taking care of a great many families that otherwise would have had no service.

We regret to say that it will be quite a while before we can obtain and install such needed equipment as switchboards, wire and cables. Then we can clear up the waiting list and once again supply individual line service.

Suggestions that will help improve your party-line service

- 1 Be careful not to interrupt a conversation if the line is being used.
- 2 Try not to tie up the line too long on any one call. Remember, no call, however important, can reach you while your own line is in use.
- 3 If you must make a series of calls, allow a little time between them so that others on your line may have a chance to phone.
- 4 Be quick to release the line if your neighbor needs to make an urgent call. You may have to ask a similar favor of him.
- 5 Always replace your receiver carefully when you finish a call. A receiver off the hook ties up the whole line.

Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Convention Program

Will Open Friday;
Closes With Big Parade Saturday

First Annual Convention and Parade Was Held in Kingston Eleven Years Ago

Line of March Will Move Up Broadway to Albany Avenue to State Armory

Friday and Saturday will be "Firemen's Days" in Kingston when the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will hold its 11th annual convention here. Eleven years ago, in 1936, the county firemen held the first annual convention and parade of the organization in Kingston.

The convention will open Friday evening at the state armory with the annual business meeting, followed by entertainment and the annual banquet. More than 700 delegates and guests are expected to attend the banquet at the armory.

Saturday, however, will be the big day, for the convention closes with the colorful firemen's parade, omitted during the war years, when more than 2,000 of the county firemen will march.

The parade will form at Broadway and the Strand, and promptly at 3 o'clock will move up Broadway to Albany avenue, through Wall street, North Front street, and out Albany avenue to the state armory where it will disband.

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry will furnish evening service both days of the convention. It has been announced by the State Bridge Authority who operates the ferryboat George Clinton. The ferry will make its last trip from Kingston at 11:30 o'clock each night.

Thirty-eight of the 55 fire companies who are members of the association have signed an intention to march in the parade.

For several years, prior to the organization of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in 1936, there had been discussion among the firemen of Kingston and Ulster county as to the wisdom of forming a county organization, along similar lines to the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Leading volunteer firemen of the city and county discussed the matter, and it was finally decided to hold a meeting in Kingston of interested volunteers to organize county associations.

The meeting was held on Monday evening, April 15, 1935, at the Dugout on East Chestnut street, which that year was the home of Joyce-Schirick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Some 80 volunteer firemen from city and county were present and the organization with practically every fire department in the city and county as members.

Its First President
Edward F. Moran of Union Hose Co. of Kingston was chosen to serve as the first president of the organization. The other officers elected were William B. Martin of Excelsior Hose Co. of Kingston, as first vice president; Allen D. Potter of Pioneer Engine Co. of Ellenville, as second vice president; L. E. Dunne of Wiltwyck Hose Co. of Kingston, secretary; and George Hammesphair of Wallkill, treasurer.

The directors named were James A. Simpson of M. F. Whitney Hose Co. of Poughkeepsie; Fire Chief C. G. A. Fisher of Scoresby Fire Co. of Ellenville; L. E. Westbrooke of the Napanoch Fire Department; John T. Groves of the Port Ewen Fire Department; and Joseph Ditch, Sr., of Weiner Hose Co. of Kingston.

The present officers of the association are Vice President Edward Maines of Port Ewen, who is acting president, due to the resignation earlier in the year of L. E. Dunne of this city; Robert Snyder of Saugerties, second vice president; Fred C. Harder of Kingston, secretary; and Henry DuBois of New Paltz, treasurer.

The association now numbers every volunteer fire company and fire department in the city and county among its membership.

Since its organization in 1935 the association has grown in strength, both financially and in numbers.

One of the most progressive forward steps taken since the association was organized was the adoption of the mutual fire aid plan, which has been in successful operation for several years.

This plan provides for the coverage of all fire districts in the county when the fire department of any district has been asked to assist in fighting a fire in another district.

The plan was set up largely through the work of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Fire Department, and the board of directors of the association, both working together for the betterment of fighting fire in Ulster county.

Local Committee

Richard Greene is president of the Kingston convention committee, with Frank Wynne as treasurer, and Nelson W. Snyder as secretary.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy is grand marshal of the parade and chairman of the parade committee.

Edward Kolts and Eugene Cornwell were the members of the badge committee.

Peter Keresman arranged for the entertainment Friday night while arrangements for the annual banquet were made by Fred Harder and Augustus Bunce.

Merchants Cooperate

All of the merchants of Kingston are cooperating to make the convention one of the most successful ever held in Kingston, and many of the stores on Saturday will close at 3 o'clock that afternoon so that the clerks may view the big parade.

Had Many Obstacles
The local convention committee headed by Mr. Greene encountered many obstacles in arranging to have the convention in the city.

The greatest obstacle was the lack of funds, and this was overcome by the holding of the Firemen's Ball in the municipal auditorium on May 23, when some of the funds needed were raised.

Active work on the part of the chairman, assisted by Fred Harder, Augustus Bunce, Walter Albrecht, Henry Kelsch, Fire Chief Murphy, Peter Keresman, Ray Whitbeck, Nelson Snyder, Frank Wynne, Eugene Cornwell, Thomas Coughlin, John N. Cordis, Edward Moran, Richard Riseley, Edward Kolts, and others resulted in the raising of the funds needed to meet the convention expenses.

The convention committee held weekly meetings during the past few months, and as fast as an obstacle arose steps were taken to overcome it.

Swan to Speak

The guest speaker at the convention Friday evening will be George L. Swan of New York City, Assistant Chief Engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Acting President Edward Maines of the Port Ewen Fire Department will preside at the business sessions, and it is expected that he will be elected president at the annual election Friday night.

It is planned to open the business session at 8 o'clock Friday evening, and all of the business sessions will be held in the state armory.

Vaudeville Acts

At the close of the business meeting and election of officers, Mr. Swan will speak, and his address will be followed by the annual entertainment.

Peter Keresman, who has charge of that part of the program, has arranged for a full hour's entertainment by high class vaudeville acts from New York City.

The banquet will be held at the close of the entertainment.

Every fire company and fire department in the city and county will be represented by delegates at the annual meeting and banquet.

Arrive Saturday Morning

The various fire companies who plan to take part in the afternoon parade will commence to arrive in Kingston on Saturday morning.

Kingston's streets will present a lively appearance both before and during the parade as the companies will march to their positions in line of march to the accompaniment of stirring music.

Arrangements have been made by the local convention committee to serve a box lunch at the state armory when the parade disbands there.

Fire Chief Murphy said today that the parade will be fully a mile in length with more than 2,000 firemen in line.

Thousands to View Parade

It is expected that Kingston will be thronged with thousands of visitors from Ulster county and the surrounding area, and that with night service provided by the ferry, that many from Dutchess county will spend Saturday in Kingston.

All indications point to the fact that Friday and Saturday will be gala days in Kingston.

Measles May Be Serious Disease

Is Common Because It Is Highly Contagious

Measles is such a common childhood disease that mothers are apt to look upon an attack as inevitable for their children. They think of measles as a necessary evil, calling for extra attention to the child, but nothing to worry about. It is a good thing, of course, for the parent not to get excited when the child has the measles, or any other disease, for that matter. But other diseases have serious consequences, especially if the patient is very young, and should not be dismissed lightly.

Measles itself is seldom a direct cause of death. It may, however, lead to complications which will cause death or gravely menace health. Children with measles, or just recovering from an attack, may catch pneumonia, diphtheria, even tuberculosis. They may also develop ear trouble. The child recovering from measles is particularly susceptible to other infections.

The first symptoms of measles are a head cold, sneezing, running nose and watery eyes. Sometimes vomiting occurs and there is a slight fever. Red spots break out on the skin about the fourth day. They last only a few days. The disease usually runs its course in two weeks.

Measles is common because it is highly contagious. It is often spread because its early symptoms are confused with those of a cold and children who have the disease are permitted to play with well children. At the first sign of measles, the child should be put to bed and kept there, separated from other children, until all danger is past. Meanwhile, a doctor should be consulted.

Children should never be deliberately exposed to measles. Common as the disease is, it is a threat to future health. Every precaution should be taken particularly to guard very young children from the disease. The majority of deaths from measles occurs among children less than three years of age. To protect children against measles, a new method is being tried which appears to give partial immunity to the disease or lightens its severity. Advice about serums should be obtained from a doctor. Of course, adults may catch measles, too. It is comparatively rare among them because so many people have measles in childhood and thereafter are immune to it. There are different types of measles, however, and one type does not create immunity to another type.

Why former TB patients can be employed will be discussed in the next article. Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Facts for Vets

When John H.'s orphaned nephew was 14, John took the boy into his home and cared for him as though he were his own son. But he did not take any formal steps toward adoption. Shortly after Pearl Harbor, the nephew enlisted in the Navy and was later killed in action. His uncle's income, meantime, has been so reduced that the old man is not able to support his wife and himself. He called upon his local Red Cross chapter for advice.

John was advised to file a claim with the Veterans Administration as the dependent "parent" of his nephew. A dependent parent of a serviceman or veteran who has died because of service disabilities, is entitled to a pension: $45 for one parent or $50 when there are two parents.

It is not necessary to be a natural parent because, under the law, the term "parent" means a father or mother through adoption or a person who stands "in loco parentis" (in the place of parents) to a member of the armed forces for a period not less than one year prior to the soldier's or sailor's entry into the armed forces. However, only one "mother" and one "father" will be recognized as dependent parents.

John H. can be regarded as the parent of his nephew because he stood "in loco parentis" for more than one year prior to the time his nephew entered the Navy. The Home Service worker is now helping him execute his claim and obtain evidence as to his dependency and relationship as a parent to his nephew.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR
She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better.
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, setting up night sweats, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Lack of Freight Space Is Reported Hindering Output

New York, July 25 (AP)—Lack of ample freight-carrying space hampered today to clamp an unannounced but nonetheless rigid ceiling on the nation's productive effort.
Why produce more goods than you expect to ship? Was a question already confronting some industries.
The shortage of freight cars was so acute there were reports in railroad circles that the Office of Defense Transportation would require delivery of new units.
One proposal discussed was for the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to finance purchase of 50,000 cars for lease to the carriers, with priorities on scarce materials for quick construction.
Individual railroads already have some 10,000 freight cars on order. The car building industry points to a drop from 2,814 deliveries in May to 2,084 in June as emphasizing a need for assistance in obtaining materials, principally steel and lumber.
Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., a U. S. Steel subsidiary, cut its Chicago area operations 25 percent this week because of a car shortage. Pittsburgh manufacturers running out of storage space anticipated steel mill curtailments within a week, in northern states grain was piled on the ground at piling elevators and on farms awaiting shipment. Some coal mines were reported closed temporarily.

Brooklyn Gas Company Refund Authorized

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—The Brooklyn Gas Company is authorized to refund $4,760,000 of $11,650,000 outstanding in 25-year four-per-cent sinking fund debentures, by drawing on proceeds from a recent bond issue.
The Public Service Commission gave the go-ahead yesterday after the company reported it had decided not to issue the proposed $7,000,000 in preferred stock the commission previously authorized to help redeem all the debentures. Bids on the proposed stock were received from several companies.
The $4,760,000 is the balance from a $34,000,000 first mortgage bond issue, the rest of which was used to redeem outstanding 3½-per-cent bonds.
The utility is attempting to refinance a $41,000,000 debt, so that funds will be available for facility expansion.

Champion-Hale Heavy Match Is Big Attraction

Supporting Scraps Are Among Best Lineup Ever Arranged by B'nai B'rith Society

This is the night that boxing fans are expected to jam municipal stadium for the B'nai B'rith show, featuring a heavyweight match with a lot of promise as the main go, and a supporting card studded with the names of action battlers.

Starting time is 9 o'clock and from the opening gong of the first preliminary until the last punch in the Willie Champion vs. Ray Hale bout, there promises to be plenty for the jam of customers to cheer about.

'Rookie' Selection Will Be Tough One

Popularity in Home Towns Adds to Complications

New York, July 25 (AP)—Baseball's bumper crop of newcomers, headed by such brand new stars as Del Ennis of the Phils, Grady Hatton of the Reds, Ralph Kiner of the Pirates, Gil Coan of the Senators and Hoot Evers of the Tigers present quite a problem for the boys who must pick a "rookie" of the year.

Ennis supporters are legion in Philadelphia where he has taken his home-town by storm. Although the 21-year-old outfielder dropped out of the 10 top hitters, for a time he has regained his early stride after a few days on the bench. He is the fellow who harbored the strange ambition of growing up to be a Philly when the National League entry was the joke of the town. Now that the Phils are coming up in the world, he's on the way too.

Hatton gets the Cincinnati vote on his consistent hitting for a youngster who never played a game of pro ball before this season. If you counted in pitchers, Ewell Blackwell, probably would get the first place ballot from Manager Bill McKechnie who is sold on the ex-G.I. with the blazing fast ball. The Reds paid Hatton, a third baseman, $25,000 for signing a contract although he came out of Texas U. and the army without experience.

The newest home run slugger of note is Fielder Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh whose total of 16 round trippers placed him second to Johnny Mize of New York in the National League.

Young Hank Behrman of Brooklyn has the best pitching record of any of the newcomers with a 7-3 mark. Even while the Dodgers were slumping through the west, the nightstander from Maspeth, N. Y., was winning three of four starts. Behrman, in fact, has taken much of the play away from Joe Hatten, a more publicized hurler from California. Hatten started slowly but seems ready to start living up to those press notices.

Sixth Annual Golf Tourney Opens in Chicago for All

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—The 1946 all-American golf tournaments were set for opening at dawn today, with some 270 players, professionals and amateurs, lured to the greens of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club to collect a part of the richest purse in golf history—$50,875.

The sixth annual three-ring golf show is booked for a four-day stand by the country's leading pros, amateurs, and women in three 72-hole medal play battles. The cast includes 185 professionals, 50 amateurs, and 35 women, and just about all of the names familiar to golf fans were among the entries.

Dawn to dusk schedules were arranged for the first two days because of the large entry. The first three players scheduled to tee off at 6:30 a. m. to be followed at six-minute intervals until the final trio start the 18-hole assignment at 3:06 p. m.

After the first 36 holes the playing personnel will be reduced to the low 100 pro scorers and ties, 40 low amateurs and ties, and 30 low women scorers and ties entering the final two rounds, 18 holes on Saturday and 18 on Sunday.

Although there were a galaxy of stars competing, Byron Nelson took over the familiar role of favorite and defending champion.

Kramer Faces Tuero In Seabright Match

Seabright, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Second-seeded Jack Kramer of Montebello, Calif., runs into some tough opposition today when he meets Jack Tuero of New Orleans in one of the feature matches of the 58th annual Seabright Invitation Tennis Tournament at the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club.

Kramer was extended to three sets yesterday before he was able to down Earl Cochell of Los Angeles, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. A little while later, Kramer teamed with Bob Falkenberg of Beverly Hills to beat Gayle Kellogg of La Jolla, Calif., and Noel Brown of Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-4, in the opening doubles contest.

The Davis Cup combination of Billy Talbert of Wilmington, Del., and Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., outscored George Pero of Miami Fla., and Sam Match of Los Angeles, 6-2, 8-6.

Tuero and Dick Odman of Seattle paired together to beat the team of Eddie Moxlan of Trenton, N. J., and Glen Gardner of New Orleans, 6-2, 6-0. The San Francisco combination of Norman Brooks and Nick Carter were also victorious, beating William Canning of La Jolla, Calif., and Bob Kimbrell of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-3.

Oakland, Calif.—Paul Lewis, 136, Oakland, T.K.O. Earl Turner, 150, Richmond, Calif., 9.

whether or not Carmine gets by Thompson.

The preliminaries, slated for three rounds each, look attractive with some real sluggers billed to appear, including William Verbeke, the Hollander who now lives in Kingston.

Better Golf By SAM SNEAD

4. I have taken special pains with our artist in today's picture, to make as clear as possible the simplest method of making the explosion shot. You may be able to learn a lot by studying this picture. When you step up to the ball, wiggle your feet around until they are anchored on solid ground and not just on surface sand. Then you have a foundation. Play the ball well off the left foot. The stance is open, which as you know, means that the left foot is down back further away from the desired line of flight than the right and the left toe points pretty well toward the flag. The right foot is at right angles to the line of desired flight. Your eyes are almost perpendicularly above the ball. You grip the club low on the leather. The straight left arm and firm wrist carry the clubhead back in a three-quarters perpendicular swing. A pause at the top—then swing smoothly down, taking the sand back of the ball from slightly outside-in and follow through. That does it. (Protected by John F. Dille Co.)

In the Rough

By Charlie Tiano

Thoughts while tramping the fairways of a golf course: This is the place where you can get pretty close to yourself, if you travel alone...You think about a myriad of things and sometimes you give a few thoughts to baseball...Like the Kingston Recreations, for instance.

In a year of record breaking attendance in baseball, golf, horse racing and other sports, the Recs are dangerously close to bankruptcy...The post-war sports hangover is at high tide everywhere but in Kingston...It doesn't make sense when you recall that Kingston is steeped in semi-pro baseball tradition, supported two games a week, sometimes three, before the war and carried on during the conflict, when semi-pro and minor league ball folded.

You hear that baseball is interesting by boxing...Hardly...The crowds are different and baseball was there first...You look around and you see theatres hanging out the SKOs...The taverns are jammed, even on a stormy Monday night...The money is there but the club lacks popular appeal...Bad weather dealt out severe blows at the start of the season...It was cold and miserable on five of the first seven nights and maybe you would rather have been at home with your pipe and slippers.

You can't take it away from the Recs...Mechanically they are sound, brilliant, but they have failed to arouse popular enthusiasm...The Wahls, Pedersons, Fitzgeralds and Gentiles are a better ball club than the Ostroms, Van Herpes, Sabos, Downers and Colemans of a few years back but those fellows packed color and proved it at the boxoffice, which is still the payoff...Billy Ostrom is the only player on the current roster who can be rated a gate attraction...The simple truth, and this is my own opinion, is that Kingston fandom has refused to accept a tailor-made club...This is no reflection on Johnny Gentile's crew...We still think they're a good ball club, even if the boxoffice figures don't back them up.

CHIP SHOTS: This is still a golf column notwithstanding the foregoing. The new Wiltywyck handicap ratings merely proved what everyone knew...Roy Vogt is top man in the Wiltywyck membership...Ed Tongue, who does a swell job as Wiltywyck tournament chairman, shot a neat 40 on Sunday, the day after he took 10 in the sandtrap on No. 2. Carl Husta says that if Ed burrowed much deeper in the front trap on No. 2 he would have become eligible for a card with Local 17.

SOMETHING'S wrong here...Lew Hymes has a 20-handicap at Wiltywyck and 12 at Twaalfskull...Could be a typographical error...Gus Modjeska dining up town but swearing off golf...Missed a chance to battle Twaalfskull's Lew Smith last week due to the press tourney in Poughkeepsie...What Smith often hoped but never could do to us on a bowling alley, he would like to try on the links...But if it's going to be murder, we want a stroke a hole.

THE NINETEENTH HOLE—A typical scene in the Twaalfskill club house...Harry Schirick telling John Cashin that he missed beauties this long on his fishing trip, while the Judge recounted all the birdies he missed by just this much...It was a draw...Herman Gottfried of the New York Water Supply legal department in hot pursuit of his first 39...Billy Newkirk touring Wiltywyck with a 5-iron and putter and doing okay...A couple of distinguished guests at Wiltywyck over the week-end...E. B. Pedersen designer of the Pedersen clubs and irons and doing the course in 76...He was accompanied by his brother...The elder Pedersen is a nifty golfer...Tiny Ruffner, prominent radio announcer, is a frequent visitor at Tommy Danaher's fairways. Enough Mulligans for a day.

Providence, R. I.—Willie Joyce, 142, Gary, Ind., outpointed Maxie Starr, 143, Baltimore, 10.

Billy Ostrom May Oppose New York Ace at Stadium

Largest Turnout of Fans Is Expected to Watch Classic Clash Under Arc-lights at 9

Hank Damm's visiting New York Firemen will put the Recs to one of their major tests Saturday night at municipal stadium where the once-a-week schedule of the local apple knockers gets its baptism.

The visiting firefighters are tough and with Ken Auer gyrating just 60 feet from home plate, Joe Hoffman's docile swingers have a busy evening cut out for them. Auer is one of two well-known Auer brothers who divide their pitching talents between the New York police and firemen. Roy Auer is the police hotshot, while Ken is No. 1 hurler for the smoke eaters.

One of the largest turnouts of the season is expected to witness the contest. Over and above the excellent attraction the firemen represent there is a surplus anticipated from the Ulster County Firemen's Convention and parade Saturday afternoon.

Chances are the stands will be jammed with visiting firemen, athletic and non-athletic. It seems like a natural setting to turn loose southpaw Billy Ostrom, the long Recreation turnstile magnet, but Manager Joe Hoffman hasn't announced a pitching selection. The eccentric Bridge City southpaw could luxuriate as the darling of the holiday-bent smoke eaters who will swarm all over Kingston for the occasion.

Ostrom turned in a magnificent performance against the Albany Senators and appeared on his way to a brilliant victory when the storm short circuited the lighting system. "Ripper" Collins' Eastern Leaguers were swinging from their heels against Billy the Kid but except for one inning he had them looking foolish.

The New York Firemen are perennial semi-pro standouts in the metropolitan district. Seldom do they migrate so far from their home pasture but this is a special occasion and firemen like to travel. The possibility of the guest firemen having a glorious time while in the staid Colonial City cannot be discounted.

Pitchers Galore
Manager Damm is five-deep in pitchers with veterans Jim McKeough, Herb Fernandez and Johnny Connaughton backing up Auer.

The Firemen infield shows Hank Otten at first base; Tom McElroy, second; Giro Caterino at third and Bob Mendez at shortstop. This is a veteran quartet that has carried on for several seasons against the best semi-pro clubs in the met district.

Matty Rupp, Firemen catcher, is one of the real stars of the brigade. From the standpoint of seniority, Rupp outranks everybody on the ball club.

Johnny Fernandez and Gene Daly are topnotch outfielders, with a newcomer, Dan Howard, patrolling in left field.

This could be one of the classic games of the season, especially if Auer and Ostrom hook up. In any event it is an attraction worthy of plenty of support. Getting the New York Firemen to visit Kingston is just another in a series of 18-karat performances by the Recreations.

Ithaca Enters Finals

Jamestown, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Ithaca today had entered the final round of the 11th Annual New York State Semi-Professional Baseball Tournament and Jamestown and Falconer will vie for the chance to oppose the Ithaca club in the championship game tonight.

Movie Week Designated

Albany, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Governor Dewey today designated the week of August 6 for commemoration of the 20th anniversary of talking pictures. Dewey, suggesting that New Yorkers did occasion "to enjoy the special programs arranged by our theatres," said the designation was a tribute to "the pioneering spirit of the Warner Brothers and the scientists who produced this modern miracle."

Three Rookies Picked Up Here At Dodger Tryout School

Buddy Lane of Windham, 'Red' Gorsline, K.H.S. Shortstop, Are Two of Best Boys

Associated Press Sports Writer
Those who have started to count the Brooklyn Dodgers out of the National League pennant race because of their recent disastrous road trip, have done so without taking into account Brooklyn's amazing home record at Ebbets Field where they still have 38 games to play this season.

Forced to share the National League's top berth with the St. Louis Cardinals for four days after leading the parade for more than two months, the Dodgers wasted little time upon their return home yesterday to regain undisputed possession of first place.

This they did by the simple medium of notching their 30th victory in 39 home games, at the expense of the third place Chicago Cubs while the Cardinals were thrashed by the New York Giants.

With an after-dusk crowd of 30,677 fans on hand, the Dodgers eked out a brilliant 2-1 triumph over the Braves, principally on the fine hurling of southpaw Joe Hatten.

Beat Cards Ninth Time
The Giants, nemesis of the Redbirds all season, showed the St. Louis aggregation one full game behind the Dodgers when they beat the Cards for the ninth time in 14 meetings this season by a 3-1 score on the strength of Johnny Mize's 20th home run in the ninth inning, with one mate aboard.

In the American League, the pace setting Boston Red Sox maintained their 11 1/2-game margin over the runner-up New York Yankees by taking advantage of a pair of miscues to defeat the Chicago White Sox 4-1.

The Yankees kept pace with the Red Sox by coming from behind to defeat the St. Louis Browns, 5-3, under the lights at Sportsman's park. After overcoming a 2-0 lead with a brace of runs in the third frame, the Yankees went ahead when Johnny Lindell homered with one on in the fifth.

Another Shutout For Feller
Cleveland's Bobby Feller racked up his 18th win and 7th shutout of the campaign in pitching the Indians to a 1-0 triumph over Bob Savage and the Philadelphia Athletics. The Tribe Fireballer fanned nine to raise his season strikeout total to 220. Hank Edwards accounted for the only run of the game by cracking his seventh homer of the year in the third inning.

Bobo Newsom, veteran Washington right-hander duplicated Feller's feat by outpitching Detroit's dizzy trout, 1-0, in a scattered seven safeties in registering his seventh shutout.

A pair of former American Leaguers collaborated to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Veteran right-hander Schoolboy Rowe, former Tiger ace, limited the Bucs to seven scattered safeties to notch his tenth victory with Jim Tabor, former Red Sox infielder accounting for both Philly runs with his sixth home run in the third inning.

Cincinnati shaded the Boston Braves, 2-1, as Bucky Walters earned the nod over veteran Bill Lee.

Yesterday's Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Johnny Mize, Giants—Homered with one on in the last half of the ninth to beat the Cardinals 3-1.
Joe Hatten, Dodgers—Bested Chicago's Hank Wyse in a pitching duel as the Dodgers won 2-1.
Bob Feller, Indians—Registered his seventh shutout and his 18th victory of the season in 1-0 win over the Athletics.
Bobo Newsom, Senators—Scattered seven hits in pitching a 1-0 triumph over Dizzy Trout and the Tigers.
Schoolboy Rowe and Jim Tabor, Phillies—Rowe blanked the Pirates with seven hits and Tabor provided both Phillies runs with a home run as the Phils won 2-0.

Zale-Graziano Are To Fight Sept. 27

New York, July 25 (AP)—The middleweight championship fight between Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., and Challenger Rocky Graziano of New York, originally scheduled to night, will be held in Yankee Stadium September 27.

Postponed because of a muscular ailment suffered by the champion, the bout first was set up to September 26, but it was advanced another day yesterday because the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, falls on September 26.

In the event of rain, the bout will be held September 28.

Marines Desire Meeting Friday With All Stars

Commandant J. R. Mayone Desires to Settle All Plans Regarding Aug. 4 Game

Commandant J. R. Mayone of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps League today said he desired a meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion rooms with the Kingston All Stars, the home team scheduled to play for the ex-servicemen's fund in the municipal stadium, Sunday night, August 4.

During his conversation with a sports reporter, Mayone said that he had contacted the West Point Artillery nine relative to replacing Angelo Bertelli's Springfield club as opposition for the Kingston Stars, and that the reply from Sgt. Frank Cecil, manager, was favorable.

"The Marine Corps League is the first to give local talent its big chance of showing under the lights at the uptown ball park," Mayone remarked. "We don't want any hitches, so a meeting with the players from Kingston is imperative."

Red Gorsline Tabbed
Red Gorsline, Kingston High School shortstop, should have his Dodger contract within the next couple days, Karam declined to make a positive statement on Gorsline but it is no secret that next to Lane, the K.H.S. shortstop received most attention during the trials.

The identity of the third player to be signed has been ascertained only to the extent that he is a Poughkeepsie youth who plays the infield.

Karam expressed complete satisfaction with the Kingston work-outs and said he was gratified for the excellent cooperation extended him by Harry Eason and the Recreation Department.

Wants Another Look
"Some of these kids didn't get a real chance," he said, "and for that reason I'd like to come back in September if arrangements can be made."

The chief scout said that bad weather had hampered the trials and prevented a more thorough screening of some players. The three men signed, however, stood heads and shoulders over the rest of the field, Karam stated.

One of the surprising sidelights was the failure of any pitcher or outfielder to qualify. Approximately 65 aspiring Dodgers were put through the paces during the two days.

McCarthy Looks Promising
"The pitchers and outfielders didn't come up to expectations," Karam said. "This young lad, McCarthy, of Highland, was the best looking pitcher I saw. He is only 16 years old and should be ready in a year or so. Most of the other fellows who looked good were a bit too old. We don't like to sign boys over 21 years old."

Karam and his entourage departed for West New York, N. J., last night where they begin a two-day school today.

Mayones Register 10-3 Decision Over Subway Grill Club

Freer Outpitches Toffel in First Game of Second Half of City Soft Loop

Starting off the second half with a bang last night, Mayone's Tavern scored an easy City Softball League win over the Subway Grill by a score of 10-3.

Ben Toffel, one of the best pitchers around Kingston before the war was hit hard by the Mayones who banged out 16 hits, including five extra base slaps, one a home run by Bill Tierney in the seventh. It was a deep clout into center field.

Ben Freer worked for the winners and pitched good ball throughout the game. The Mayones started things off in the first inning when they got one run and then in a big third inning got five runs to practically put the game on ice. After that they collected one in the sixth and three in the seventh.

Subway came back in the first inning to tie it up with one run, but couldn't do anything after that until the sixth when they scored two runs which weren't enough to do much damage.

The big guns for the Mayones were Harry Mickle with four for four, following him came McGrane, Shattan, Amarello, Tierney and Ben Freer with two hits apiece.

The losers collected nine scattered hits off Freer's offerings with Ben Toffel the losing hurler making three of them.

Major League Contract 'Biz' Begins Monday in New York

Players and Owners to Battle It Out; Representatives Are 'Armed'

New York, July 25 (AP)—A lengthy tussle between major league players and owners was envisioned today as representatives of 480-odd big league performers were receiving final instructions from their teammates for Monday's history-making baseball contract sessions with the presidents of the two major circuits.

Already representatives of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Philadelphia Phillies of the National League and the Cleveland Indians of the American League were armed with programs to present at next week's meetings with instructions to carry them into the players-owners meeting next month in New York. In addition a pension plan, drafted by Marty Marion, sterling shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, will be presented for consideration by representatives of the National League clubs.

Cavarretta, Jurgens Named
Preliminary steps were completed last night when the Chicago Cubs named Phil Cavarretta and Billy Jurgens to represent them on the committee of 16 National League players—two for each club—who will confer with President Ford Frick in New York, preliminary to drawing up a new form of baseball contract. The naming of the Cub captain and veteran infielder completed the selection of the eight National League clubs to the players' board.

The American League delegation, consisting of one representative from each club, with the exception of two which also selected alternates, was completed last Tuesday. It will meet with league head Will Harridge in Chicago.

The Pirates' first club selected for unionization by Robert Murphy, organizer of the American Baseball Guild, last night handed their representatives, pitcher Rip Sewell and third baseman Lee Handley, an eight-point program for presentation at the meeting. Chief among the demands was one for a $7,500 minimum annual salary.

Berardi Oilers Are Victors Over Bruin In Softball, 2-1

'Milly' Berardi Limits Texas Lunchers to Four Hits in City Loop

Opening competition in the second half of the City League Softball League, the Berardi Oilers got off on the right foot by nipping the Texas Lunch Bruins for a 2 to 1 victory.

The Oilers put the decided marker across in the sixth. Johnny Berardi got his second double of the game, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a long fly to center by Joe Watzka.

M. Berardi and J. Watzka formed the winning battery allowing only four hits. Hunt and Larkin worked for the losers giving up five hits to the Oilers. Both teams played errorless ball.

Dutchess Woman Scores Upset in 20-Hole Golf Play

Mrs. Voss, Woodstock, Is Eliminated by Locust Valley Opponent in State Tilt

Garden City, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Mrs. N. A. Dauchy of Dutchess County Country Club, Poughkeepsie, upset Mrs. Mortimer May of Willow Brook, in a twenty-hole match in the second round of the New York State Women's Golf Championship at Cherry Valley yesterday.

One down at the turn, after leading 2 up at the sixth hole, Mrs. May, who captured the championship in 1938, the last time it was held at Cherry Valley, pulled up to even the match with a par 5 on the tenth. The next five holes were halved, after which Mrs. May shot into the lead again on the sixteenth with a par 4.

Both were one over to halve the seventeenth, but Mrs. Dauchy, evened the match with a par 3 on the eighteenth, while Mrs. May went two over. Each took a par 4 on the nineteenth, but Mrs. May overshot her approach on the twentieth for a 5, while Mrs. Dauchy was matching the standard of 4.

The summaries:
Mrs. W. R. Kirkland, Jr., Locust Valley, defeated Mrs. Clarence Voss, Woodstock, 3 and 1.
Mrs. N. A. Dauchy, Poughkeepsie, defeated Mrs. Mortimer May Baldwin, 1 up (20 holes).

Boy Scout Camp Filled; Will Close Sunday Afternoon

George Matthews, chairman of the Camp Committee of the Ulster-Greene Council, announced today that the new Boy Scout Camp at East Jewett is filled to capacity this week and that the camp will close Sunday afternoon.

At Saturday night's Camp Fire, last week William Russell and Albert Cutler were awarded their first class rank. Jay Souers received his second class rank and the following merit badges were awarded: Walter Davis, Troop 11, personal health, wood carving, metal work; Donald Hendrickson, Troop 3, swimming, metal work and woodcarving; Pat Manfro, Troop 8, personal health, metal work and woodcarving; Robert Woodman, Troop 8, woodcarving, metal work; Peter Dwyer, Troop 3, woodcarving, metal work and woodcarving; John Ahrod, Troop 3, cooking and metal work; Dick Gentner, Troop 38, pioneering and life saving; Harrison Forde, Air Squadron 1, athletics; Albert Canal, Troop 70, cement work and painting; Fred Sneider, Troop 70, metal work and life saving; Joseph McNierney, Troop 14, metal work and woodcarving; John Schneider, Troop 70, swimming; Ray Hendrickson, Pot 3, first aid, electricity, metal work, woodcarving; Richard Ruth, Air Squadron 3, metal work, leathercraft, and first aid.

Honor Camper Award for outstanding Scout Camping at the camp were given to the following Scouts: John Schneider, Troop 70; Albert Canal, Troop 70; Philip Schunk, Troop 70; Albert Cutler, Troop 37; William Russell, Troop 70; Fred Sneider, Troop 70; Walter Dack, Troop 11, and Dick Gentner, Troop 38.

The following Scouts were recommended for membership in the Order of the Arrow: Robert Woodman, Troop 8, Kingston; Richard Gentner, Troop 38, Saugerties; Ray Hendrickson, Explorer Post 3, Kingston; Peter Dwyer, Troop 3, Kingston. The Order of the Arrow is a National Scout Camping Society and membership in this organization is determined by the scouting spirit and good camping ability of Boy Scouts in long term camp. It is expected that during the fall months the new Chapter of this Order will be installed for the Ulster-Greene Council. Many Scouts of the Ulster-Greene Council are now members of the Order of the Arrow in Fort Orange Council and this is because Scouts from the Ulster-Greene Council camped for the past two years at the Fort Orange Council's Camp at Kinderhook.

Among the Campers in Camp this week are members of Troop 2, Poncknockie and they are accompanied by Burr Tuttle who is over 75 years old from the standpoint of years but who is keeping with the youngest tentmates in camp. While the camp will be closed on Sunday as a long term camp, it will be used considerably during the fall and winter months as a training center for scout leaders and for week-end camp by any troop wishing to use the camp site. Troops must however, make reservations for space with the Council Office prior to using the camp and there is no charge made for such use by any Scout Organization.

The Saugerties and Northern Districts in the Council are planning a week-end specialization course on August 17th and 18th, at which time they will be given an opportunity of participating in various types of scout craftwork and, learning-by-doing the things that go to make a successful troop camp. The activities area set up for use by the scouts in camp will be used by this training session and the scouts participating in this session will be able to view a bed made of pine boughs and then to make one of their own as well as the other scout craft facilities such as rope yard, axe yard, tracking pit, waterfront area and the like.

The camp will be inspected on Friday and Saturday by Stanley Merrill, deputy regional executive, and after his inspection, he will meet with the Council Camp Committee at Camp, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to make recommendations for the further development for the camp for next year's occupancy.

Car Body Torn Off Leaving Driver Still at the Wheel

John F. Boore, Jr., 20, of the Bronx, was reported in serious condition at Horba Hospital, Middletown, yesterday as the result of a collision between his car and a skidding truck operated by Arthur Terwilliger of Bloomingburgh.

In the accident, which happened on Bloomingburgh mountain, Route 17, Tuesday morning, Wurtsboro troopers found that the truck, said to have been out of control just before the collision, tore the entire body of the Boore car from the chassis and carried it nearly 100 feet. The chassis with Boore still at the wheel, is said to have continued some 50 feet on the highway and then plunged down a 15-foot embankment.

Terwilliger, who escaped injury, was released after questioning.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.E. Foreign Affairs Analyst

The full extent of the damage done by the under-water atomic bomb in Bikini lagoon hasn't yet been determined because death-dealing radio-activity still hangs about, but there's plenty to confirm that we have to do with a giant of awful might.

Howard Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer aboard the U.S.S. Appalachian at the scene, says that this latest bomb was "probably the most powerful man-made force ever loosed—perhaps even stronger than the bomb that razed most of Nagasaki last August." In any event, we know that atomic energy is the greatest force on which puny man ever has succeeded in putting his halter. It is capable of unlimited destruction or can be made to work wonders.

The method of developing and controlling this new-found might is the world's No. 1 problem of the moment. And yet even as the experts were detonating the under-water bomb at Bikini, over here in New York the highly explosive question of atomic control was being used for a football at the conference of the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission. One shudders at the thought.

The proposal of the United States for global supervision of atomic energy once more was up for consideration. This is the wholly altruistic offer of Uncle Sam to destroy his store of atomic bombs and share his atomic secrets for peaceful use if the world will set up adequate safeguards to make sure this terrible weapon never again can be used as an instrument of war.

As you will recall, this involves surrendering of the veto power by the five major nations on all matters pertaining to atomic development. It provides for the creation of an international atomic development authority with absolute power over atomic raw materials and production. It calls for the adoption of an international law "with teeth," providing for severe punishment of violators, and endowing the international atomic development with the right of investigation in any country.

This proposal was put before the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission.

contain only the principal office buildings, including restaurants and daytime facilities for visitors. A five-square-mile area could contain the entire official buildings district, including delegation offices and a part of the community area.

accommodate almost all functions, provided topography is selected that is favorable to building development. Some housing probably would have to be located outside the area, as well as accompanying services.

A 20-square-mile-area could accommodate practically all functions except the "protective belt."

A 40-square-mile area could contain all functions except those designated "external."

On June 14. On June 19 Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate to the U.N. and representative to the Atomic Energy Commission, rejected the United States plan to abolish the veto on atomic matters and presented his own atomic control plan which would put the whole system of control under the Security Council and the United Nations set-up.

On July 12 the United States presented a further memorandum amplifying and explaining its proposal. Yesterday Gromyko exploded his own atomic bomb by flatly rejecting the American proposals once more.

Soviet Seems Suspicious
At first glance it might appear that the Soviet suspects Uncle Sam of hiding trickery under the cloak of beneficence. However, that suspicion would be so utterly absurd that we must look further for an explanation of the Soviet attitude. After all, Uncle Sam has the whole bag of atomic tricks in his hands already and so why—if he were up to mischief—would he be offering to give away the greatest power man ever has possessed?

The Moscow plan, proposing to keep the whole control within the United Nations machinery, clings tenaciously to that veto power. Observers note that under this arrangement the U.N. control couldn't institute an investigation within the borders of any nation possessing the veto power. In short, Russia apparently isn't willing to lessen her sovereignty to the extent of granting the atomic control agency the blanket right of investigation within the Soviet Union. She demands the privilege of vetoing investigation.

So the question of atomic control is about back where it started.

Helen Marvel Is Taken to Jersey

Will Face 40 Charges She Took $18,000 From Laundry Firm

Jersey City, N. J., July 23 (AP)—Miss Helen A. Marvel, 49, was returned to Jersey City last night to face 40 charges of larceny and embezzlement of $18,000 from the Central Laundries Company, where she was bookkeeper until a year ago.

Detective John Gleason, one of the police officers who brought the slight, middle-aged woman back from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., where she was employed as a bookkeeper in a dress shop, quoted her as saying she "didn't know where the money went."

General Manager Robert Whitten of the laundry said Miss Marvel always had dressed simply and apparently had carried no large sums while working at the laundry.

The indictments are composed of 17 charging petty larceny, 18 grand larceny and 5 embezzlement. Miss Marvel waived extradition when she was arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Frederick G. Schmidt in White Plains, N. Y.

Barbizon Shop Opens Friday

Women's Establishment Is on Wall Street: Has Latest Fixtures

The ultra modern glass door, framed in an entrance of up-to-the-minute design, opens Friday for a preview of the Barbizon Shop's ladies' establishment, located at 282 Wall Street, opposite the court house.

Stepping into a tinted world of blended pinks, greens, blues, tushies, and terra cotta colors, the lady customer will find herself amid an array of latest fashions obtainable for particular women.

Indirect lighting from a hundred outlets, featuring the use of fluorescent tubes, and recessed ceiling spot lights, highlight the layout of Kingston's newest ladies' wear shop.

To the right of the entrance, flanked by distinctive show windows, the store's interior presents a beautiful costume jewelry department with glittering costume charms displayed in new modern leather-covered cases. The left side of the store for three-quarters of its length, is given over to recessed display racks which afford ample room for new fashions in play clothes.

Across the smooth, colorful inlaid floor to the right of the entrance, directly behind the jewelry department, one enters a separate Junior DeB department which features its own exclusive dressing rooms complete with all facilities and displays the latest fashions for the junior miss.

Next comes a complete wrapping department also separated from other sections of the store. Ample room and new fixtures are again featured in this particular section of the store.

The entire back portion of the store contains the dress department—the last word in creative design for the sale and display of exclusive dress fashions. Mirrors are placed advantageously throughout this section, and modern furnishings accentuate the recessed displays of stylish dress creations. Modern mannequins are used to further display dress design of the present and future.

The store's business office is located directly to the rear of the shop behind the dress department, and the basement affords ample storage for the large reserve stock of merchandise which has always been a policy of the Barbizon Shop.

Veterans Are Moving Into Quonsets, 'Prefabs' in Brooklyn

New York, July 25 (AP)—The chance to start life in a Quonset hut was a real break for 17-day-old Gloria Lynn Ruby.

Gloria Lynn is the youngest settler in the recently-opened Jamaica Bay houses where 2,000 war veterans and their families are moving into long rows of Quonsets and "prefabs" just as fast as New York can assemble them on the site of an undeveloped Brooklyn park.

"My husband told me that our application for a house had been accepted on the very day the baby was born," said 25-year-old Mrs. David Ruby as she busily prepared Gloria Lynn's afternoon bottle.

"So instead of flat, the baby parents' crowded flat, the baby parents here directly from the hospital. It was like the answer to a prayer."

Outside, the Rubys' ex-G.I. home looked exactly like hundreds $31 a month. In winter it is heated by a kerosene stove.

Like most men in the community, David Ruby — 28-year-old E.T.O. veteran — commutes to his work in a Manhattan printing establishment. It takes him 45 minutes by bus and subway.

"Living in a Quonset offers no special problems that you wouldn't have in any small apartment," said Mrs. Ruby. "The ceiling is high and when it rains you hear every drop on the metal roof, but a lot of people prefer them to the prefabs."

Resembles Boomtown

The atmosphere of the veterans' settlement, rushed into shape to meet the metropolitan housing shortage, is like that of a pioneer boomtown. Dust rises from broad unpaved streets; there are few sidewalks—yet. Young people lend a hand to newly-arriving neighbors, eagerly pointing out where stores and playground can be found.

The veterans and their wives hail from all parts of the country. The Quonsets, themselves, were brought down from Rhode Island in LST craft. Like the less military appearing prefabricated houses, they all were used during the war.

Every day new faces and new houses are added. "When you've been here a week," said Mrs. Ruby, "you're an old settler. It's like pioneering—with a jeep instead of a covered wagon."

Ex-Captain Thibodeau Enlists as M. Sergeant

The local Army Recruiting Station announced that Robert W. Thibodeau of West Park, a former captain, has enlisted as a master sergeant in the Army Air Forces for a period of three years.

He served in the regular army as an enlisted man from January 9, 1940 to July 14, 1942. Then he attended Quartermaster Officers' Candidate School Class and was commissioned a second lieutenant. Sergeant Thibodeau served overseas in the European African Middle Eastern theatre. He is entitled to the following awards: American Campaign Medal, European-African-Middle Eastern Medal, World War 2 Medal, Army of Occupation Medal, Good Conduct Medal.

He told First Sergeant Mair L. Venable that he enlisted because the army offers security, and a plan for retirement which is unequalled in civilian life.

'Pop' Concert Planned For Sunday Afternoon At Williams Camp

A "Pop" Concert, presenting some of the best loved of the "light classics," will be presented as the fourth Sunday afternoon musicale at the Ernest Williams Music Camp, Pine Grove, near Saugerties, Sunday at 3 o'clock.

The featured artist-student will be Dorothy Parker of Woodstock, who will play the Grieg "Piano Concerto" accompanied by the camp orchestra. Engelbert Roentgen, the principal cellist of the Metropolitan Opera House orchestra, also of Woodstock, will be the guest conductor for this number.

Dr. Ernest S. Williams, founder and music director of the camp, will lead the orchestra in two additional selections: Rossini's overture to "William Tell," and the Strauss favorite, "The Blue Danube Waltz."

The second portion of the concert will be unique in camp history. The camp dance band and swing choir will present a typical studio broadcast. Norman Mohn will lead the band in three popular favorites while Frederic Fay Smith, camp director, will guide the swing choir through "Mood Indigo," "Shoe Shine Boy," and "If I Could Tell You." The dance orchestra is composed of five saxes, three trumpets, three trombones, bass, piano, drums, and accordion.

This group appears twice each week at the camp dances and has the reputation as one of the outstanding music groups this year. Some of the students enrolled have been members of "name bands" and have appeared in both military as well as civilian programs.

The concluding group will be presented by the camp band, also directed by Dr. Williams. The famed "Poet and Peasant Overture" will be heard followed by Doris Stark of Elizabeth, N. J., who will play the cornet solo, "The Catskill Polka," a composition by Dr. Williams. She will be accompanied by the 85-piece camp band. Morton Gould's "Pavanne" will follow and the program will be concluded by three marches under the direction of student conductors. In the junior division, Richard Wittich, a piano major from Johnson City, will direct the band in Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever." Mary Ellen Nordgren, also a piano major from Little Falls, will conduct "On the Mall" by Goldman, and Harold Eyerly of Brownsville, Pa., will conclude the program with "El Capitan" by Sousa.

The student conductors were selected by the class of 40 who are enrolled in the conducting class which is a part of the regular camp curriculum taught by Edwin L. Freeman, president of the New York State School Music Association. This marks the fourth student to appear as conductor this season. Bennett Hoke of Union made a similar appearance last week.

The concert is open to the public free of charge. More than 160 students will participate.

Eggs in Soup
Instead of macaroni, spaghetti and rice put some egg in your soup. It will add color and richness. Just before the soup is ready to serve and while it is still simmering, pour in beaten egg gradually. The egg cooks in strands immediately on coming in contact with the hot soup.

Save That Soap!
To save soap keep it dry after each use. For washing clothes or dishes, use pieces of soap in a shaker or make a soap jelly by dissolving the scraps in a bowlful of boiling water. Remember that a thin piece of soap can be completely used if it is pressed on a larger cake of soap when it is wet.

Miss Logan cringed on the floor of the car so that the man, who was walking towards Port Washington, could not see her. She told Klick not to stop since the man was armed. That was the last seen of the man as he vanished into the heavy woods.
Police who were summoned by the other painters found Mrs.
Logan unconscious on the floor.
Police Captain Theodore Blunt said she "was trying to make noises." An instant later she died.
Blunt said the Logan's maid told him she had heard Mrs.
Logan's voice once, calling to her daughter, and that she had heard
"two loud noises." Blunt said that two closed doors and the sound of her sewing machine prevented her from hearing more.

Mrs. Logan was the wife of William John Logan, baking soda firm executive and retired vice-president of the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, and former director of distribution for the W.P.B. He also is a former mayor of Flower Hill, and a 1913-graduate of Princeton, where he was an outstanding football guard.

Plane Misses Empire
State Powell Says

New York, July 25 (AP)—A two-engine airplane roared out of fog shrouding New York city yesterday and narrowly missed striking the Empire State building into which a B-25 crashed a year ago, killing 14 deaths, building officials claimed.
Francis Powell, manager of the observatory on the 102-story building, said the pilot banked just in time and leveled off down Fifth Avenue.
Although O. W. Young, district administrator for the C.A.A., claimed the plane was a Coast Guard Lodestar which landed at Floyd Bennett Field from Washington, Secretary of Treasury Snyder, passenger in that plane, said the report was a "lot of bunk."

President May Tell
Stand on O.P.A.

boss Paul Porter had his staff fev-erishly at work on a stack of new pricing orders in obvious anticipation of renewed powers. Porter previously had conferred with Mr.
Truman on the bill.

Will Be Only Temporary
O.P.A. officials acknowledged that in the case of many items the re-establishment of June 30 ceilings will be only temporary.
The bill gives O.P.A. 30 to 60 days to revise prices in line with new standards set up.

Working with previous regulations, the agency has ready about 125 new items, many of which it plans to issue as soon as the bill is signed. These authorize increases mainly on industrial items, and strip controls from some other products.

Besides divesting O.P.A. of much of its authority over prices of manufactured goods, the bill in the case of farm commodities gives all authority to the Secretary of Agriculture and ultimately to an independent three-man board. This board to be named by the President and confirmed by the Senate.
The legislation prohibits restoration of price controls before August 20, on meats, dairy products, eggs, poultry, petroleum, tobacco, cottonseed and soybeans and their products. It also bans ceilings on the price of grain and livestock and poultry feeds made from grain.

Could Rule by August 20
The control board could rule by August 20 whether or not ceilings should be re-established on meats, dairy products, grains, cottonseed and soybeans. If it failed to act, ceilings would be restored automatically.
On the other items, ceilings could not be re-invoked even after August 20 unless the board gave its permission.

The bill also sets up a new pricing standard for fixing ceilings of manufacturers, producers and processors. These ceilings would reflect 1940 average industry-wide prices on each product, plus cost increases which have occurred since that time. Under the old law, 1936-39 was the price base.

Another provision requires O.P.A. to restore the pre-war profit margins of dealers handling such so-called "reconvertible" items as automobiles, radios and household appliances.
On autos, where these margins had been cut 4.5 per cent, O.P.A. has estimated that the cost of popular-priced cars would be raised an average of at least $75.
Subsidies amounting to $1,000-000,000 for the present fiscal year are authorized under the bill, but none could be paid on any ceiling-free products. The administration had requested $2,000,000,000 in subsidies.

Death of Brewery Guard
Is Listed as Suicide

New York, July 25 (AP)—Detective Joseph Kelly of the Wadsworth avenue police station said today he was convinced that the death of Thomas Hurley, Newark, N. J., brewery guard whose body was found last Saturday in the Hudson river off 138th street, was a suicide.

A U. S. attorney in Newark said earlier this week that a possibility that Hurley was a homicide was being investigated, because he was to have testified Tuesday against four men accused in the theft of a truckload of 600 cases of beer from the Ballantine brewery.

Kelly said he was convinced of a description of a man who jumped bridge Friday night checked with the description of Hurley, who lived at Newark. The case will be listed as suicide unless some fresh evidence to indicate violence is uncovered, Kelly added.

Suit Is Filed
Washington, July 25 (AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark announced the filing today of a civil suit charging six corporations and one individual with conspiring to violate the anti-trust laws in the sale of motor vehicles for use as taxicabs in Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York city and Minneapolis. Clark's announcement said the suit named the Yellow Cab Company of Chicago, Chicago Yellow Cab Company, Inc.; Parmelee Transportation Company of Chicago; Cab Sales and Parts Corporation of Chicago; Checker Taxi Company of Chicago; Checker Cab Manufacturing Corporation of Kalamazoo, Mich.; and Morris Markin of Kalamazoo, president of Checker
Cab Manufacturing Corporation.

New York, July 25 (AP)—The O.P.A. today suspended 18 sugar dealers from using, transferring or dealing in sugar for periods of from 10 days to the duration of sugar rationing. Clifford R. Snider, chief O.P.A. hearing commissioner, announced. Ten of the suspensions were for the duration of rationing. Two others drew the same penalty but with the provision that they might apply for relief from the suspension order after varying periods.

May Interceded
For Capt. Garsson

the Garsson combine, told Eisenhower in a letter April 12, 1945, that he spoke as a "warm personal friend" of the elder Garsson.
"That, of course, is my interest in the matter," the chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee wrote.

Eisenhower replied April 22 that he was referring May's letter to the "proper authorities."
The War Department earlier reported that the letters were handled "in the routine manner" and that they did not influence in the disposition of the case.

Capt. Garsson, the department said, was court martialed April 2, 1945, on a charge of wilfully disobeying orders. He was found guilty, but the court recommended clemency. Eisenhower eventually accepted such a recommendation and suspended sentence.
Garsson was relieved from active duty on January 22, 1945.

The charges against Garsson were based on his refusal to carry out orders to occupy an area which he felt was "tactically unsound." Other officers testified in his defense that his judgment was correct.

May Will Appear
Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.)
said today he wants Rep. May (D-Ky.) to tell the Senate committee "the whole Cumberland Lumber Company story."

May, chairman of the House
Military Committee, is scheduled to appear before the Senate group tomorrow in delayed response to a subpoena.

Ferguson added to newsmen that he hopes the Kentuckian's testimony will bring out "all his dealing with the Garssons and these companies."

The Cumberland Lumber Company was one of the firms in a midwestern munitions combine organized by Henry M. and Murray Garsson which the Senate committee has been investigating for weeks.

There has been testimony that the Cumberland Company received $48,000 in advances for lumber which it did not deliver. The money, some $25,000 of which was later refunded, was paid by the Erie Basin Metals Company, Elgin, Ill., and the Bavia Metal Products Company, Bavia, Ill., two principal firms in the combine.

Some of the checks and drafts introduced as evidence of the transaction bore the indorsement
"A. J. May," and May was recorded as Kentucky agent for the Cumberland firm, located at Pres-tonsburg, Ky. May acknowledged indorsing only one of the checks.
He said on the House floor it was

Atomic Control Group Would Be Civilians, Conferees Say

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Senate and House conferees agreed today that the proposed atomic energy control commission should be composed exclusively of civilians.
They agreed also that the director of the Division of Military Application should be a member of the armed forces.

The agreements, announced by Senator McMahon (D., Conn.)
head of the Senate conferees working with a House group to adjust differences over atomic energy legislation, represented a compromise.
The House had insisted that at least one, and not more than two, members of the commission should be members of the armed forces.

However, the House won its argument that the director of military application should be a military man instead of a civilian as recommended by the Senate.
The decisions of the conferees, however, are not binding on the Senate and the House and must be approved by both chambers before becoming effective.

No agreement was reached over the controversial patent section and a provision in the House bill authorizing the President to direct the atomic energy commission to permit the armed forces to produce atomic weapons.
McMahon told reporters the conferees would meet again this afternoon in an attempt to reach final agreement.

Caretaker Shot to Death, Wife Held by Police

Brewster, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Travis Green, estate of 50, caretaker on the Brewster estate of orchestra leader Ray Block was found shot to death in his cottage last night and District Attorney Fred A. Dickinson of Carmel said that Green's wife Virginia, 47, had been arrested in connection with the slaying.

State Police Officers Emmett Donahue and Ray McCoy of the Brewster barracks of the New York State Police said that they went to the caretaker's cottage shortly before midnight in response to a telephone call from Mrs. Green.

They said that they found Green on the floor of the living room with an open razor nearby. Dr. Robert Cleaver, Putnam county coroner reported that Green had died almost instantly from a bullet wound that entered his back and pierced his heart.

Officers Donahue and McCoy said that Mrs. Green told them that her husband had threatened her with a razor. She admitted ownership of a revolver of similar caliber to that with which Green had been shot and said she had purchased the weapon about two years ago for self-protection, according to the officers.

Permanent W.A.C. Is Before Congress

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Legislation to create a permanent Women's Army Corps has been introduced by Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the Military Affairs Committee.

The W.A.C. is now a part of the Army of the United States, a temporary year-time organization. The regular W.A.C. would be headed by a colonel and its personnel would be limited to two per cent of the authorized personnel of the Regular Army.

Thomas also introduced a bill to create a Medical Service Corps in the Army Medical Department.

Ellenville Band Case Still Pending

Ellenville band are also volunteer firemen and members of the Pioneer Engine Co.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, grand marshal of the parade, said today that the decision as to whether Clayton's Band is asked to withdraw from the parade, or whether the decision will be made in favor of the union bands, will have to be made by the parade committee.

Indications today were that the delegates of Pioneer Engine Co. were planning to debate the matter on the convention floor Friday evening at the state armory, where the opening session will be held.

The fire chief said that there are three union bands in the line of march, one from the Firemen's and the other two from Poughkeepsie. The other musical units are drum corps, who are not members of the Musicians' Union.

Foreman Alfred J. May of Witwyck Hose Co. has asked all the members of that fire company to report for the parade at the corner of Hasbrouck avenue and East Strand not later than 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The company has been assigned fifth place in the first division of the parade.

Decorations Displayed
The streets of the city began to take on a carnival spirit today when gay colored bunting and decorations made their appearance on several buildings in various sections as a prelude to tomorrow's invasion of the visiting firemen.

The 11th annual Ulster County Firemen's Convention and parade moves into town tomorrow in one of the most colorful settings in the history of the event.

Merchant response to the Chamber of Commerce's request to hang out the welcome mat in royal fashion has been excellent.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who will serve as Grand Marshal of the parade, yesterday urged all residents to display the flag tomorrow. The parade, featuring 37 units, is scheduled for 3 o'clock Saturday. Most of the city's streets will close for the day at that time in order to give employees a chance to see the spectacle.

The official line of march and the convention program appear in this issue of the Freeman on page 9. The line of march will include three divisions and the official vanguard. Starting at the corner of East Strand and Broadway, the parade will proceed up Broadway to Maiden Lane, to Wall street, to North Front street to Fair street to Main street to Clinton street, to Albany avenue to Manor avenue to the New York State Armory where the parade will be dismissed.

The parade will be reviewed from the reviewing stand in front of City Hall, by Mayor William F. Edmonds and city and county officials.

The first division of the parade will form on East Strand with the right at Broadway. The second division forms on Hasbrouck avenue with the right on East Strand, with the Third Division forming at Mill street and Chamber righting on Hasbrouck avenue.

Comments on A-Bomb
Washington, July 25 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal, withholding a more sage observation until all the reports are in, had this to say today about yesterday's atomic bomb test: "I'd rather not be having breakfast at the point where the bomb went off." Forrestal made this comment to reporters after a White House call during which he discussed the atomic tests with President Truman.

Myron Boice Improving
Myron Boice of Lake Katrine, who sustained a fracture of the skull and other injuries on July 5, when he fell from a load of hay on the concrete floor of his barn, is reported to be improving nicely and apparently out of danger. Mr. Boice is still at the Kingston Hospital, where he was taken following the accident.

Finds Car, No Driver
Deputy Sheriff Geiger checked a report yesterday that a car was parked on the highway near the 2-A viaduct north of the city and was interfering with traffic. The deputy found that a Chevrolet coach with license SP-86-76 was parked off the road facing south but was not obstructing traffic. The right rear tire of the car was flat. There was no trace of the driver.

Three for One Swap
Paris, July 25 (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle has swapped a Mustang Mustang, presented him in 1944 by Gen. Eisenhower, for a personal gift, for three smaller Mustangs, said today. The dealer, Walter Wayne, said he took the Mustang in a trade for a Mustangpower DeLahave, a 12-horsepower Mustang, and an 11-horsepower Mustang.

Reorganization Meets Criticism in House

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, July 25 (AP)—Legislation to reorganize congressional procedure came under a cross-fire of criticism today as the House took up the measure.

Opponents centered their fire on bill which would:

Increase the pay of Congress members from $10,000 to $15,000 a year and allow them to become eligible for retirement pay.

Reduce the number of House committees from 48 to 18.

Establish a new budget procedure under which Senate and House committees which pass on revenue-raising measures would have a voice in fixing a "ceiling" on expenditures.

Members of the appropriations committee took the lead in fighting the latter provision. Talking with reporters before the House met, Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) called it "unworkable" and contended it "will cost much more than it will save."

Two Saugerties Boys Injured in Truck Upset
John Collins, 17, and Walter Collins, 12, were injured at Pine Grove, town of Saugerties, Wednesday when a light truck loaded with lumber turned over. John, with fractured ribs and a back injury, and Walter, with a cut on the head, were taken to the Dale Sanitarium at Saugerties by ambulance. Following an investigation, State Trooper Seymour of the Lake Katrine barracks reported the truck was owned by Collins, Benson, Saugerties, and driven by Alfred Benson.

Mrs. Pino Loses Case, Stricken Ill Outside City Court

Physician Is Called Upon to Revive Her; Mrs. Fogar Accused of Assault

After losing a case in city court, Wednesday night, Mrs. Lene Pino of Roosevelt avenue required the attention of a physician to revive her from a nervous spell.

Mrs. Pino was the complainant in a third degree assault action against Mrs. Lillian Fogar of Glasco. The alleged assault took place in the Jayrich dress factory, Smith avenue, where both women are employed.

A six-man jury found the defendant not guilty after hearing the testimony given before City Judge Matthew V. Cahill. Attorneys were Andrew J. Cook, Jr., for Mrs. Fogar and Elmer Nathan for Mrs. Pino.

Leaving the court room, Mrs. Pino was stricken as she walked through the corridor of the city hall, outside of police headquarters. She took the spell after several remarks made by friends of Mrs. Fogar, who had been acquitted.

Lieutenant William J. Leonard and Sergeant James P. Martin furnished smelling salts and a stretcher from police headquarters. When Mrs. Pino did not respond to first aid, Dr. Leon Gray was summoned.

Mrs. Pino, partially revived was removed to her home in an auto.
